Death Claims Dr. J. T. Buckley

Well Known Physician Succumbs to Stroke Sustained on Street Last Week—Was Highly Regarded In His Profession—Held Various Public Offices.

Dr. John T. Buckley of 165 Hasbrouck street, sanitary inspector for the board of health of Kingston, died Sunday morning about 11 o'clock at the Benedictine Hospital. The day last week he was suddenly taken ill while on John street near Wall street and taken to his home, where Dr. John G. O'Leary diagnosed the case as a paralytic stroke, and on Friday the patient was taken to the Benedictine Hospital. Medical attention was given but efforts to aid his recovery were of no avail and he succumbed on Sunday. Dr. Buckley was one of the best known physicians in the city, having practiced for many years. He studied with the late Dr. George C. Smith on the Strand and previously was in the office of the late Dr. Walter A. Van Ransselaer on Main street. He attended and graduated from the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons. For several years he was physician for the West Shore railroad, caring for accident cases.

Politically Dr. Buckley was a Republican. He was supervisor in 1894 and 1895, representing the third department, and for a number of years served as coroner. He served terms as the health officer of Kingston, and about a year ago was appointed sanitary inspector for the board of health by Mayor Block. He was a student in his profession, a capable physician and made many friends. Fraternally he was a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, and on Tuesday evening the officers and members will conduct the Elks' services at the residence.

Dr. Buckley is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Jillian Greenway. He was the son of the late Thomas Buckley who resided on the Wilbur road and for years was a coachman for the late Justice Theodoric R. Westbrook. Later for many years he was a court officer for the Supreme and county courts.

Funeral services will be held at the residence, Elmendorf street, Wednesday, September 22, at 8:30 a. m., thence to St. Joseph's Church where at 9 o'clock a Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Those who desire to view the remains may do so this evening and on Tuesday evening between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Issue Chauffeur Licenses Here

On and after October first the local automobile bureau at 337 Fair street will issue and renew chauffeur licenses. The State Tax Commission, which formerly had charge of this department direct, has announced that next month the issuing of chauffeur's licenses will be cared for in the various counties in the same manner as the operator's license.

This will speed up the issuing of chauffeur's license, cards and buttons as the local bureaus will have blanks, buttons and licenses. The custom heretofore has been to issue the chauffeur licenses direct from Albany. Renewals were taken care of in the same manner and during the last few weeks of June when chauffeur licenses were being renewed the department was overtaxed and delay followed.

Through issuing chauffeur licenses from Albany, delay was also caused as first applicants who made application, took their tests here and then were compelled to await the issuing of the license and button from Albany.

MOTORCYCLE AND AUTO CRASH; ARRESTS FOLLOW.

George J. Morse, a negro residing on R. F. D. No. 4, Kingston, while riding his motorcycle Saturday evening had a collision with an automobile driven by Thomas Negro, an Italian residing at Glasco, at Flatbush and Clifton avenues. Morse was slightly injured as was Anna Van Dusen, a negress of Poughkeepsie, who was riding with Morse. Morse arrested Negro on a charge of reckless driving, and Negro arrested Morse on the same charge. At police headquarters both furnished bail for their appearance today in police court when each withdrew the charge against the other. Morse stated to Judge Shufeldt that Negro "realized he was in the wrong and was going to pay for damages to the motorcycle."

SCRAP FOLLOWED FIGHT ON NORTH FRONT STREET.

Sunday evening George Schryver and Abram Wood, who both reside at No. 121 North Front street, had an argument which led to a fight in which Wood was beaten up. Wood arrested Schryver on a charge of assault in the third degree and turned him over to the police. This morning in police court Schryver, who is married and the father of three small children, entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to fifteen days in jail but the serving of sentence was suspended pending Schryver's future good behavior.

Alleged Negro Slasher Arrested

Joe Smith, Accused of Slashing Corinthian Jackson, Another Negro, Saturday Evening — Smith Gave Himself Up to Police on Sunday.

Corinthian Jackson, a negro better known as Buddy, was badly slashed about the face, head and arms by another negro, said to be Joe Smith, at Kingston Point on Saturday evening. Jackson had his wounds dressed at the Kingston City Hospital Sunday and later was removed to his home by his friends. While the police were searching for Smith he walked into police headquarters and gave himself up. Today the hearing was adjourned until later.

Jackson is employed on one of the local brickyards and is married, and from what the police could gather returned home Saturday evening and met Smith, who is also employed on the brickyard.

Jackson claimed that Smith wielded a knife on him and he was badly cut up. He had a slash from the forehead down and across the cheek nearly to the nose, and also a slash across the back of his neck, on his back and on the right forearm. Dr. Jacobson attended him and dressed the wounds and removed about three inches of the steel blade of the knife which had broken off in the last slash made by the knife wielder.

Fortunately for Jackson he was not stabbed in any vital spot and was able to be conveyed to his home Sunday evening.

Rotondo Died of Fractured Skull

Joseph Rotondo of Port Ewen died Saturday at the Highland Hospital in Beacon from a compound fracture of the skull received in an auto accident near Fishkill early last Thursday morning when Dominic Michieri of Albany drove his car into an abutment of Blodgett's bridge. Mr. and Mrs. William Larner, who were also riding in the automobile, were killed in the accident.

The body of Rotondo was brought to this city and funeral services were held this afternoon from the parlors of Undertaker James V. Halloran at 44 Broadway, with interment in Montrepose Cemetery.

Deceased was a veteran of the World War and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Rotodo of Port Ewen; his wife, who was Frances Joy of this city, and two sisters, who reside in Port Ewen.

HIGHLAND BOY'S SKULL FRACTURED; HIT BY CAR

Bertram Cottine, Jr., seven years old, son of Bertram Cottine, proprietor of a service station north of Highland, is in the Vassar Brothers' Hospital, Poughkeepsie, with a fractured skull sustained when he was struck by a car driven by Carl Relyea, a Highland taxi driver, in front of the boy's home Friday afternoon. Sergeant Lockhart of the State Troopers is investigating the accident. Relyea figured in another accident about a month ago when he collided with a car parked at the roadside near Clintondale. A man known as Roosa was standing in front of the machine and the force of the impact carried him and the car for twenty feet against a stone wall.

FORD WILL DEFEND SUIT FOR LIBEL

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Henry Ford will defend the suit for libel brought against him by one Shapiro of Chicago.

This became known today here when Federal Judge Frank Cooper signed an order permitting Ford's attorney to take depositions of residents of Gouverneur and Ithaca.

Ford charged in his Dearborn Independent that Shapiro conducted a monopoly in maple sugar through which the farmers suffered losses. The depositions to be taken will be used with the purpose of sustaining the charges. Ford's lawyers say.

Three U. S. Sailors Wounded.

Peking, Sept. 20 (AP)—Three American sailors were wounded, none of them seriously, when the gunboat Pigeon was fired on Sunday morning while passing the city of Hanyang on the Yangtze River according to reliable foreign telegrams from Hankow.

Four Killed in Train Mishaps.

Pottstown, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP).—Four men were killed and one injured when a Philadelphia to Pottsville express train on the Reading railroad plowshed through a group of section hands at work between here and Stowe today.

"Rum King" Sentenced.

Canandaigua, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP).—Lewis E. Sands, the "millionaire rum king" today was sentenced to two years in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., by Judge Hazel in federal court here. Sands was charged with using the mails to defraud.

Cassitz Buys Residence.

Oscar Cassitz, of Loughran & Cassitz, plumbers and steamfitters, has purchased a new residence property on Lewis street of John H. Haller, contractor and builder.

15,372 Attended The Exposition

Big Show Had Best Attendance of Any Year—On Saturday Attendance Was 3,422—Charleston Contest Won by Arthur Overt, Jr.

Kingston's tented Exposition closed its doors on Saturday evening after a most successful showing, both as to the number of exhibits and attendance, and today everything on the grounds had been taken down and removed. The Charleston contest of Saturday evening was won by Arthur Overt, Jr., a young negro boy, who the audience decided was the most rubber jointed of the entries, and he was awarded the prize of the evening. There were three other contestants, but Arthur's exhibition was awarded the palm by the audience.

Those in charge of the Exposition stated that the attendance during the ten days was equal to any show ever given in the city. Interest was maintained throughout the entire ten days, and the attendance was large at every session of the Exposition.

The total paid attendance on Saturday was 3,422, while the total paid admission for the ten days was 15,372 of which number 13,111 were adults and 2,261 were children. This was the largest attendance at any Exposition held here.

HIGHWAY CONTRACT AWARDED TO SCHOENTAG.

David Schoentag, Inc., of Saugerties was the lowest bidder to build the new highway from the West Shore crossing to Brynes Corner on the Saugerties-Woodstock highway. The bids, which were opened on Friday with Supervisor John C. Shults present, were as follows: David Schoentag, Inc., Saugerties, $34,695.25; Hobeboom & Campbell, Inc., Kingston, $36,191.75; Ferber, Gill & Co., Hackensack, N. J., $36,602.25; Martin A. Murray Co., Troy, $37,500.25.

The state engineer's estimate was $38,625.25. The highway will be eighteen feet wide with all the dangerous curves removed and traveling will be made much more safer than it is at present.

MOLYNEAUX TO CONTINUE HANDLING CADILLAC CARS.

A. F. Molyneaux, secretary and treasurer of the Ulster Garage, Ltd., at 269 Fair street, has bought out the interest of C. A. Warren and John W. Eckert and will hereafter conduct the garage. Mr. Molyneaux has been connected with the Ulster Garage for a number of years and will continue to handle the Cadillac motor cars for which he has been agent for a considerable time. Mr. Molyneaux will continue to sell and service Cadillac cars and conduct a general garage business. The business was taken over exclusively by Mr. Molyneaux last week.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY HANGS HIMSELF OVER DOOR.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP).—Robert Stoddard, ten, accidentally hung himself while on an exploring expedition trying to crawl over the top of an unused door in the family apartment late yesterday. Although he possessed a key to the other rooms in the apartment he attempted to investigate the closed room during the family's absence, slipped and fell, his neck catching between two boards. He was dead when found.

Thief Rifles John Street Store.

Entrance was effected into the news store of William O'Reilly on John street, in the Kingston Opera House building, during Sunday night through a rear window from which some light wooden slats nailed across a broken pane of glass had been torn off. The cash register, the drawer of which had been left open, was rifled of about $8. Several small articles were also taken.

The New York Times in its Sunday sporting section prints a picture of "Oscawana", the fast trotting horse of John J. Cuneo of this city, being a reproduction of a photograph taken on Thursday of last week when with Tom Ackerman driving, he won the $2,000 purse at Mineola, L. I.

P.-T. A. of School No. 6.

There will be a regular monthly meeting of the P.-T. A. of School No. 6 at the school on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. Regular meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month and all parents are cordially invited to attend. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at the meeting Tuesday.

Not George J.

The George Schryver of 120 North Front street who was arrested by Abram Wood of Converse street on a charge of assault Sunday night is not George J. Schryver, agent for Overland and Willys-Knight motor cars whose place of business is on North Front street.

Business Certificate Filed.

A certificate under the assumed business name law has been filed at the office of the Ulster county clerk by Emma Medler of 716 Broadway, that she is conducting a business in Kingston under the name and style, "Gloria Studio of Hair Dressing".

Boggs Estate Up at Auction

Magnificent Woodstock Property Finds No Bidder as Entirety—When Sub-Divided, Only Two Parcels Are Sold.

Saturday afternoon the Norman T. Boggs estate at Woodstock was offered for sale at auction, first as an entirety and later divided into smaller parcels for disposal. The property, known as Wildwood Manor, is located high up on the mountain side back of Woodstock and was formerly the Shultis homestead. Several years ago Mr. Boggs bought the property and since that time has erected many substantial buildings.

Mr. Sisson of J. B. Sisson's Sons of Poughkeepsie, auctioneers, was in charge of the sale. The farm consists of 215 acres with some twenty buildings thereon including the house and the caretaker's quarters.

There were no bids for the property as a whole and the palce was then divided into some twelve parcels and offered for sale. But two of the parcels were struck off. One consisted of 10 acres on the north side of the property on the Woodstock-Glasco turnpike. This included a pond and stone ice house. It was struck off to George A. Neher for $2,500.

A two and a half acre plot to the west was sold to Cecil Chichester for $500.

The sale was then adjourned and it was announced that further sales could be consummated at private sale with Mr. Boggs. There were quite a crowd in attendance at the sale but the property, which is a magnificent country estate, evidently was too much of a proposition for the bidders present.

Sheriff Requests An Oral Hearing

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Request for an oral hearing before Governor Smith was made today by James A. Leary, counsel for Sheriff Arthur G. Wilmot of Saratoga county, on charges of misconduct in office lodged against the sheriff by Supreme Court Justice Christopher J. Heffernan. In an answer to the charges and a brief filed with the Governor by Mr. Leary, blanket denial was made of the accusations, which resulted from an inquiry by Justice Heffernan into alleged gambling operations in the city of Saratoga Springs, and Saratoga county.

Justice Heffernan's report, made public by Governor Smith last week, was characterized by Mr. Leary as "a colorful picture, sensational matter for the newspapers," but he added, "it entirely shrouded the real issue in the case." The justice's opinion was based, the attorney asserted, not on evidence, but in part at least on outside talks.

MRS. SMITH CLAIMS SHE LOST $53 IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Isabella Smith of High Falls, who is still a patient at the Kingston City Hospital with injuries sustained in an automobile crash at Wall and Marius streets, last week, reported to the police department Sunday that her pocketbook containing $53 was missing since the accident. Mrs. Smith with her two year old baby were riding with John C. Corcoran of 23 Post street when Corcoran's car and that of Cyrus DuBois of No. 36 Washington avenue, came together.

LOCAL MOTORISTS ENJOY IDEAL WEATHER

Sunday was an ideal fall day and hundreds of motorists took advantage of the fine weather. Although the roads were well lined with traffic the majority of it was local. Since Labor Day the city people have left the mountains and few boarders remain. Most of the out of town cars on the roads at this time are tourists who are traveling from point to point. The past season has been a poor one for the summer boarding houses in the mountains.

NEGROES SECURE $300 FROM TURKEY POINT MAN

The sheriff's office was notified Sunday that an aged resident of Turkey Point named Simmons had been robbed Saturday of $300. According to the story two negroes approached and asked him a question. As he was about to reply they seized him and threw him over on a woodpile and went through his pockets, taking his money. The matter was reported to the State Troopers who began an investigation.

Bulbulz Injured on Shipyard.

Stephen Bulbulz of No. 126 Third avenue was admitted to the Kingston City Hospital on Saturday for an injury sustained to his head while at work on the Donovan shipyard on the Strand. This morning Bulbulz had so far recovered that he was enabled to sit in the sun parlor at the hospital.

Masonic Club Dance.

The Masonic Club will hold its first dance of the season on Wednesday evening, September 29, at the club rooms on Broadway. The music will be furnished by Zuora's orchestra.

Red Cross Makes Appeal for Cash

Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross has received a special appeal from national headquarters for prompt and generous contributions in aid of the Florida sufferers. Cash contributions only are asked for and the more promptly contributions are made the more good they will accomplish. Checks or cash may be sent or brought to the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross at No. 293 Wall street.

BRICKYARDER RETURNS CASH TO HIS VICTIMS

Sergeant James Cunningham and Trooper Coons were called to the Schleede brickyard at Ulster Park Sunday afternoon where a colored man had made a clean-up of cash from the pockets of other workers on the yard. After making a clean-up of some $300 in cash the man left for parts unknown. During the investigation the troopers were notified that the man had been seen in Kingston and following this up they returned to Kingston in search of the missing man. While here Sergeant Cunningham was notified that the man had evidently changed his mind and had returned to the yard where he had returned the cash to the men. No one desired to make a complaint under the circumstances and no arrest was made.

MORE ULSTER GARDEN CLUB PRIZE WINNERS

In addition to the members of the Ulster Garden Club who were awarded prizes at the flower show in Poughkeepsie last week as stated in The Freeman were Mrs. Herman Kelly of St. Remy, a member of the club, who was awarded two first prizes in fruit for grapes and apples. Mrs. Edward Cookendall, another prize winner, was awarded third prize in a lunch table arrangements in addition to the other prizes mentioned in The Freeman last week.

Suits Awarded at Exposition.

To Hold Card Party.

Wednesday evening the Sons and Daughters of Liberty will hold a card party at the home of Sister Grauer, 163 Green street. Playing will start at 8:15. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Members and public are invited.

Estimates Range From 600 to 1,500 in Miami Disaster Area—Total Property Loss May Exceed $200,000,000—Untold Thousands Homeless and Injured Placed at 25,000 to 50,000—Hurricane Now Striking Pensacola.

(By The Associated Press.)

The first news despatch received direct from the storm shattered city of Miami since the disaster estimated the dead at between 600 and 1,500. These figures did not include the casualties at Fort Lauderdale, where 100 were reported dead, or at Moore Haven, 75 miles northwest of Miami, where huge waves from Lake Okeechobee took a heavy human toll.

Untold thousands were homeless and the injured were estimated at 25,000 to 50,000.

Continuing its path of devastation, the tropical hurricane that struck the Florida east coast Friday night, crossed the Everglades and roared out into the Gulf of Mexico, today was striking at Pensacola, according to reports just before that city was isolated from communication.

Advices from Pensacola at the extreme northwest tip of Florida, said a 100 mile gale was blowing this morning and the barometer reading was 29.16.

Two staff correspondents of The Associated Press, arriving in Miami by airplane, estimated the damage in that section at $150,000,000, while the total property toll of the tropical storm may exceed $200,000,000.

Two hundred children, separated from their families were wandering through the ruins of their homes in Miami, the newspapermen reported, while the roads leading to West Palm Beach were crowded with automobiles filled with refugees. Fears for the health of many children were prevalent because of lack of water, milk and proper sanitary conditions.

Miami Worst Hit.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 20 (AP).—Estimates ranging from 600 to 1,500 dead prevailed in the Miami disaster area today as first contact with the outside world was established by airplane, automobile and relief trains. The damage was estimated at $150,000,000.

In the Miami storm disaster area are included Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, Redlands, Moore Haven and Clewistown.

Little contact with these places had been established, as the causeways were flooded and wreckage and high water barred traffic. Because of continued severe winds pilots of airplanes were reported as wary of attempting to enter the storm area.

Airplanes could not locate any landing place and seaplanes feared the rough and debris-filled water.

The American Red Cross had established relief stations throughout the stricken area and the aid of nearby towns and cities was offered.

Efforts were being made to locate the relatives or friends of more than 200 children who have been found wandering about what remains of Miami.

Miami was under martial law and none except government or state officials, newspapermen and persons performing missions of relief were allowed to enter.

300 Known Dead.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 20 (AP).—As daylight broke over the devastated area of southern Florida, revised estimates placed the number of dead from the tropical hurricane at approximately 800, with 300 actually known to have perished. Hundreds were injured and scores of millions of dollars were lost in property laid in ruins.

Water was knee deep in the streets of Miami and Miami Beach; all public utilities were disabled and restaurants were closed. Drinking water was served in half portions. Urgent appeals for food, water and clothing were answered by special relief trains that were dispatched to the storm area.

The death toll in the Miami vicinity was placed at 804 by Jerry H. Owen, general superintendent of the Florida East Coast Railway, of which 500 were in the city of Miami, 250 in Hollywood and 184 in Hialeah. Other estimates listed 100 dead at Fort Lauderdale and a similar number at Moorehaven, 75 miles northwest of Miami, where the waters of Lake Okeechobee were whipped over the dikes, flooding the city to a depth of 12 to 15 feet in some places. Forty of those reported drowned were women and children, and unconfirmed reports said the road leading to Clewistown was strewn with bodies. Clewistown is believed washed away.

The hurricane was reported early to be centered 50 or 60 miles south of Pensacola.

Martial Law Ordered.

Looting broke out in the business sections of Miami last night. Seven suspects were arrested. Three hundred special policemen were sworn in for voluntary duty and martial law was ordered. At Hollywood, 200 special officers were added to the patrol force.

Cutting a path from Miami north to Fort Lauderdale, the hurricane attained a velocity of 120 miles an hour, leaving wreckage in its wake. It roared across the Everglades and passed into the Gulf of Mexico with only slightly diminished speed. The west coast was not expected seriously, Fort Myers bearing the brunt of the storm.

At St. Petersburg several trees were uprooted and flooded the outgoing [illegible] Tampa.

Striking the [illegible] Okeechobee [illegible] swept [illegible] east [illegible] hurled enormous waves against the little city of Moore Haven, where Dr. J. W. Mitchell, a Sebring physician, estimated that at least 100 persons had been drowned.

25 Drowned When Building Fell.

Residents were forced to the top of buildings, he said, and 25 persons were drowned when a two story frame structure collapsed. He declared the drainage dam built around the town at a cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars was wrecked and the countryside flooded. Only the brick business blocks and a school house were on their original foundations, Mr. Mitchell said, and shells of small houses had floated blocks from their original positions.

Troops on Duty.

Responding to urgent appeals for 500 troops from the sheriff at Miami, Governor John W. Martin dispatched several companies and hospital units of national guardsmen to the scene.

The Pullman Company made its entire resources of equipment available and the American Red Cross offered its full facilities. Funds for the storm sufferers were being raised in the sister cities of Florida and all Red Cross chapters in large southern cities were called on to rush supplies.

The tropical hurricane, originating in the Bahamas, struck Miami, and that section of the east coast Friday midnight and raged for nine hours. A brief lull about 8 o'clock Saturday morning deceived hundreds into venturing forth to salvage their belongings only to be struck by a more terrific wind than the first.

Shipping Hard Hit.

Shipping seeking haven in the Miami harbor was hard hit, more than 150 small craft, including yachts and pleasure boats, being lifted from the water and splintered on the shore.

Hurricane warnings remain displayed from Burwood, La., to Apalachicola, Fla., and storm warnings from the latter point to Tampa.

The force of the winds and waves at Miami tossed yachts and larger vessels ashore in Royal Palm Park, where they remained high and dry when the water receded, C. F. Hafley, Ridgway, Colorado, said.

Most of the wooden structures in the city, he said, have been twisted at their bases. Practically every piece of plate glass in the city was broken.

Many of the injured and killed at Miami were hit by flying roofing from the damaged buildings, Sam Smith, East Coast Pullman conductor, said.

Heavy galvanized iron sheetings of roofing were flying about the city like scraps of paper and were wrapped around trees, Smith reported.

Several sections of the country causeway across Biscayne Bay, one of the two principal links with Miami, are swept away and much of the remainder undermined.

A small house boat anchored south of Miami and Coconut Grove, with a man and his son aboard, was seen to break its moorings and sweep toward Cape Florida and the open sea. No trace has been found of either.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neylan, together with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Colter of Cambridge, Mass., occupying the same house at Miami Beach, were swept out of their home by rising seas at the height of the storm. The Neylans survived by clinging to floating wreckage, while the Colters disappeared in the high water.

A large dredge, anchored alongside the channel to the sea, was wrecked with fourteen men aboard. Seven swam to the coast, while the others were lost, it was said.

A small schooner was wrecked off of Fort Lauderdale. One man of the crew gained shore, while a companion perished just before reaching it.

Murphy Reports On State Bonus

State Comptroller Issues Statement Showing Only 6,434 Applications for State Bonus Were Rejected Out of 414,995 Filed—Valuable Aid Rendered by American Legion Posts.

Albany, Sept. 20.—The New York State Bonus Commission will go out of business on December 31

State Comptroller Vincent B Murphy, who, as the fiscal officer of the state, draws the checks in favor of the men found eligible to receive the state bonus, announced today that the aggregate number of claims paid up to September 1 amount to 399,667 out of a total of 414,995 claims filed. The amount distributed in bonus checks reaches the sum of $47,117,366.67.

Th State Bonus Commission consists, in addition to Mr. Murphy, of State Treasurer Lewis H Pounds, Attorney General Albert Ottinger and Adjutant General Franklin W. Ward.

"An analysis of the figures covering bonus applications and bonus payments," said Comptroller Murphy, "shows that the major percentage of the men who have submitted claims under the bonus law had their claims granted

Only 6,434 Applications Rejected.

"Out of the total of 414,995 applications, only 6 434 have been rejected There still remain 8,894 claims to be disposed of one way or another before the Bonus Bureau closes its doors.

"It will be recalled that two years ago the legislature passed a law authorizing the state to pay bonus claims to dependent and relatives of deceased veterans. To date 16,598 claims of this kind have been paid.

"I believe I can truthfully say that New York stands foremost among the states which have expedited the payment of the bonus awards to ex-service men The law provides that the largest bonus to any individual must not exceed $150. While thousands of men received this maximum, the average bonus, due to the graduated scale of payment provided for under the law, is in the vicinity of $117. Some veterans who saw service only long enough to put on an uniform and to take it off again, received bonus checks amounting to 33 cents, but there were very few of those.

Air for Disabled Comrades.

"A splendid indication of the sympathy veterans feel toward those of their comrades who suffer ill health is revealed by the fact that 26,174 veterans have contributed toward the Veterans' Mountain Camp and the Disabled American Veterans' unit. These contributions total $208,965. Of this amount $199,835 has been assigned to the Veterans' Mountain Camp, while $9,133 were given to the Disabled American Veterans.

"Some of the men gave their entire bonus allowance towards the comfort and treatment of their pals, but the average assignment runs in the neighborhood of $8

Report on Money Expended.

"The time is opportune to give an accounting of what has happened to the money appropriated for bonus purposes.

"In 1924, $45,000,000 were made available for the World War Bonus fund through a bond issue In 1925, $659,000 were added to this amount. Coupled with these figures are refunds amounting to $38,900 which give a total of $45,698,479 for this particular fund.

"Added to this sum are appropriations from the General Fund of $2,800,000 giving a grand total of $48,498,000. From this amount we deduct the $47,117,000 paid in bonus claims, $383,000 paid in salaries and $191,000 covering various expenses in connection with the bureau.

Balance in Fund.

"It will thus be seen that there remains a general balance of about $804,000. Of this, $4,000 belongs in the bonus fund, while the remaining $800,000 belongs to General Fund appropriations.

"These figures like most figures do, sound cold and look drab, but they tell in their own concise way what the state has done toward helping former service men, some of whom were greatly in need of aid and who in their bonus checks found a 'stake' which has helped them over some of the rough spots of existence.

"I think that one of the finest testimonials to the calibre of ex-army men in this state is the fact that out of more than 400,000 applications only 6,000 were rejected. This splendid showing is, in my opinion, due to the very fine work done by American Legion posts acting as clearance houses and information stations for veterans seeking bonus payments."

NO SPECIAL DEER LICENSE REQUIRED THIS YEAR

Albany, Sept. 20.—The Conservation Commission is receiving many inquiries regarding the new special license for taking deer, which indicate a misunderstanding on the part of many hunters regarding the law. The law does not take effect until January 1, 1927, and no special license will be required this fall for taking deer.

Jewish Feast Of Tabernacles

Festival Is of Ancient Origin—Now Used as Occasion to Encourage Charity—Begins Wednesday Evening.

This year the Feast of Tabernacles falls on Wednesday evening, September 22 and Thursday, September 23, and continues for seven days. The Law (Lev. XXIII, 34,43) commands the Israelite to dwell in booths for seven days, commencing on the fifteenth day of the seventh month (Tishri) to remind him that God caused the children of Israel to dwell in booths when He led them out of the land of Egypt The eighth day was ordained to be kept as a "solemn assembly". This will be observed on the Wednesday evening and Thursday following, September 29 and 30.

As part of the ceremonial of the day, the Law ordains that the Israelite shall take on the first day of the festival "the fruit of the goodly tree, the branches of palm trees, the boughs of thick-leaved trees and willows of the brook, and to rejoice before the Lord" This is observed, by bringing citron fruit, palm branch, myrtle and willow into the house of God In the book of Nehemiah VIII, 15, is a detailed description of the celebration of this festival in Biblical days.

The festival is in intent and ceremonial a thanksgiving festival, intertwining gratitude for God's mercy unto the people of Israel amidst the nations of the world, with thankfulness for His bounty and grace to each individual. It is the harvest festival and the earliest thanksgiving feast, the type after which the American Thanksgiving Day was fashioned.

The custom of dwelling in temporary huts or booths is not only to remind the Israelite of the wanderings of his ancestors in the wilderness, but also to recall to his mind that God has kept him throughout the year amidst all life's uncertainties

The festival has of late been used to encourage charity. The fruits of the field are brought into God's house as a sign of thankfulness and after the service are sent to the hospitals or the poor of the city. The attmpt has of late been made to have the children take a central part in the observance of this festival.

It is the custom of the synagogue to signalize the close of the holy days of the early autumn season by a festivity thoroughly characteristic of their religion, known as Simchath Torah, "the rejoicing in the Law". The last section of the Pentateuchal weekly lessons is read on this day, and is followed immediately by the reading of the first part of Genesis.

Patience

It is the virtue of donkeys, saints and cats, consisting (meaning patience) mostly of hope. And hope, incidentally, may be defined as a belief in a future event. In a German book I read lately: "To lighten your burden, add patience to it."—Frank Hanson, in Los Angeles Times.

Made Differently

If judged only by comparison of tobaccos, Lucky Strikes would be the best on the market.

They contain the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and perfectly blended.

But beyond that is an extra process—toasting—which gives them real distinction, making them indeed superior.

In smoking Lucky Strikes, you will find:

1. Finer Flavor. Toasting for 45 minutes develops the hidden flavors of the world's finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos.
2. Smoothness. Toasting for 45 minutes removes all "bite" and harshness, hence never any throat irritation.
3. Freshness. Then the tobacco is suddenly chilled. This seals the flavor in and insures constant freshness.

To attain these unique results, extra money is spent to give you added pleasure. This added effort brings extra goodness which accounts for the growing popularity of Luckies.

Health turns the Clock Backward

BRONCHITIS IS BEATEN!

C. C. FROUDE.

Bronchitis occurs as an acute or chronic condition. Acute bronchitis is usually the aftermath of a cold; in fact, is sometimes called a cold in the chest. Accumulation of mucous in the bronchial tubes, and the necessity for its frequent expectoration, are the most pronounced symptoms.

When the cold proper has been cleared up, the bronchial affection usually disappears shortly after, but sometimes becomes chronic, developing an annoying cough, with consequent hoarseness and soreness.

The real cause is faulty transmission of vital energy from the brain to the respiratory tract. By our chiropractic health method, the interference responsible for the trouble is removed, and Nature takes its normal course to Health.

JOHN L. MacKINNON.

BRONCHITIS IS REMOVED.

"I highly recommend Chiropractic adjustments for bronchitis. I suffered for years with bronchitis and can honestly say I have been entirely cured through Chiropractic adjustments, for which I am very grateful."—Bertha G. Hill, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 8021-H.

I replied, "Hiram, you didn't come all the way from Spokestown just to say that."

"No," he said, "Dave, I cum in for sum more news of the town of Kingston."

"Not much to say nowadays, Hiram, only business is booming every day."

"Wal, Wal," said Hiram, "Everyone sez az bizness is punk, but I always hear that yure bizness shure does boom all the while and I want to congratulate Dave"—"By the way, I want to look meself in one of those new Lumberjacks."

"Yes, sir, right this way, Hiram."

"Wow! them's shure loud articles, have you a little darker shade? Now then thet's more like it. Say, that looks quiete gud and it's warm, too. How much is thet, Dave?"

"That's 298 Hiram, but I have a better grade."

"Wal, let's see the better grade, Dave. Yup, them's better—Yup, all in the gravy—Yup, thet's fine and how much,, Dave?"

"That's 498, Hiram."

"Alright, I'll take thet. I'll be in this wk. for a new suit, Dave. Here you are, 498,—correct. So long Dave, see you later in the wk."

Resolutions of County W.C.T.U.

Favor Child Welfare and Instruction of Young People in Benefit of Prohibition and Necessity of Law Enforcement—Department Directors Appointed.

At the Ulster County W. C. T. U. convention held at the St. James M. E. Church last week the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Ulster county use every effort to promote child welfare and make plans to instruct our young people in the benefit of prohibition and the necessity of law enforcement to preserve the unity and integrity of our national life.

Whereas, the present political situation demands the solid backing of every Christian man and woman,

Resolved, that we, the women of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in convention assembled, do hereby pledge our heart and hand to support none but bone-dry candidates and to work untiringly for the election of the same.

In loving memory of Catherine Ann Deyo.

Whereas, God in His all wise providence has removed from our midst our beloved sister and helper in the Flower Mission work, and

Whereas, we bow in humble submission to our Heavenly Father's will, knowing He doeth all things well.

Resolved that we, the members of the W. C. T. U., met in convention at Kingston, do extend to the bereaved friends our loving sympathy in their great loss, and

Resolved, that the example of her true and helpful Christian life, always so faithful to her trust even though at the age of 91, may be an example for us to follow.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and put upon the minutes of the convention.

Resolved, that the women of the W. C. T. U. wish to thank the speakers of this occasion for their instructive and inspirational addresses, the people of the St. James M. E. Church and the White Ribboners of the Kingston W. C. T. U. for their gracious hospitality; the ladies who entertained us with their delightful music; and all those who in any way contributed toward making the convention a most successful, encouraging and long-to-be-remembered occasion.

Bread Lines Reported.

At Hollywood reports say only bread and water are available for food, while bread lines are reported at several places in Miami.

City officials in Miami have posted orders, outlining relief measures and warning would-be profiteers.

Committees have been named to handle the situation in food, building material, city relief, sanitation, the ice supply and other necessities.

Hoarding of supplies by merchants or individuals was banned after a survey revealed a 30-day supply of food and water.

Miami Beach was placed under the same regulation.

In Fort Lauderdale city officials planned immediate erection of barracks to house hundreds of refugees who have arrived. Blankets and cots were placed in remaining protected office buildings. Auxiliary hospitals were maintained in various downtown structures, with all available physicians and nurses to care for the incoming patients.

Score of Towns Razed.

South of Miami, in the little communities of Homestead, Naranja, Peters, Goulds, Kendall, Perrine and Black Point, hardly a home or store escaped.

The large citrus crop, a chief source of revenue, was drowned out, with a loss of more than half the trees, in addition to the year's output, which annually runs into thousands of dollars.

Red Cross at Work.

Washington, Sept. 20 (AP).—The nation-wide relief machinery of the American Red Cross was at work today carrying aid and comfort to the thousands left injured and homeless in the wake of the Florida hurricane.

From a score of sources its hastily-marshalled forces sped to the scene of the disaster, while other of its units at home were preparing supplies to be shipped to the devastated Miami area.

The call for action came quickly after Governor John W. Martin of Florida, in a telephone message from the state executive mansion at Tallahassee, had made an urgent appeal for help. He authorized the national Red Cross headquarters here to take complete charge of all relief work.

Complying with his request, Robert S. Parker, head of the Red Cross unit in Atlanta, Ga., was directed to ship six car loads of supplies at once to Miami and to prepare to send more as soon as the demands of the situation were known.

Telegrams called together all of the organization's units in larger southern cities, while James L. Fieser, national vice-chairman, hastened from Montgomery, Ala., to Atlanta to take personal command of the work.

Miami Beach a Wreck.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept 20 (AP).—Miami Beach is a wreck, said a report from a Western Union Telegraph operator at that place received here today over a wire of the company through Punta Rassa and Key West. He said two persons were known to be dead but estimates placed the number at ten.

The report said that not a building on the beach escaped damage and scores were demolished. Property damage was estimated at $100,000,000.

Military regulations are said to have been instituted but municipal authorities and permits from the police were necessary to obtain food and water.

No Communication with Pensacola.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 20 (AP).—The weather bureau here reported today that the wind velocity had reached one hundred mile an hour at Pensacola.

All communication with Pensacola has failed.

Efforts were made to communicate with the city by radio but the antenae at the local station was damaged by the high winds here and put out of commission temporarily.

Fleeing Before Storm.

New Orleans, Sept. 20 (AP).—Fleeing before the approaching storm, hundreds of New Orleans residents left the resort cities of the Mississippi coast last night for a haven in their homes here.

While non-residents left the city, residents of the coast made preparations for the blow, believed headed for the Mississippi and Louisiana coasts after wrecking heavy damage on the southern part of the Florida peninsula.

Annual Reunion Of Pioneer Vets

The third annual reunion of the 51st Pioneer Infantry will be held at White Plains on Saturday, October 2, and it is expected that many of the Kingston members of the regiment will attend the reunion. The Kingston members will hold a meeting at the armory Thursday evening to form plans for attending. The meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock and any one who expects to attend the reunion should be present that evening.

Thomas F. Coughlin of Kingston is vice president of the organization and it is expected that at the White Plains convention he will be elected to head the organization for the ensuing year.

The present officers are, President, Albert E. Saulpaugh, Catskill, first vice president, Thomas F. Coughlin, Kingston; second vice president, C. J. Cooper, Walden; third vice president, A. J. Tooker, Flushing, secretary, Eugene Cornwell, Kingston, treasurer, Charles T. Dixon, Kingston; chaplain, James Mullen, Poughkeepsie, and sergeant-at-arms, George M. Klein, Hudson.

According to the circulars being mailed out from White Plains the organization is planning on Governor Smith being present. There will be an executive session at the armory at 11 o'clock in the morning followed by a parade at 2 o'clock and a dinner at 4 o'clock. The event will be brought to a close with a dance in the evening

Firemen Will Play Police

The biggest baseball attraction of the season will be staged Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Kingston Fair Grounds when the teams of the Kingston police department will clash with the ball tossers of the Kingston paid fire department. The firemen recently extended a challenge to the police team, which was promptly accepted. It is expected there will be a record breaking attendance at the game. The police will likely use the same lineup that was used against the Newburgh police force. Hallinan is slated to toss them over for the fire laddies. The rumor that the fire department would use the big extension ladders to enable its fielders to field the balls knocked to the outer gardens by the police is publicly denied.

President Passed Through Kingston

President Coolidge's special train conveying the presidential party from the summer White House in the Adirondacks to Washington passed through Kingston Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. There were a large number of people assembled at the station to see the presidential special pass through town. Although the train did not stop in Kingston, it passed through slowly and the President and Mrs. Coolidge were on the rear platform to wave a greeting to the crowd. As the train passed through, the two dogs of Mrs. Coolidge could be seen inside the car.

Raymond Long Severely Burned

Raymond Long, 15 years old, of Lawsence street, while playing around a bonfire near his home on Saturday, was severely burned when his clothing caught fire. Other boys who were playing with him and several of the neighbors ran to his rescue and rolled him in the dirt to extinguish his blazing clothing. The boy was removed to the Benedictine Hospital where it was found he was severely burned about the face, neck and hands. He is under the care of Dr. John F. Larkin and his condition today was reported as being much improved.

EFFICIENCY REWARDED.

No nomination made at the primaries on Tuesday will meet with greater popular favor than the renaming of Surrogate George F. Kaufman for a second term. No public official in many years has more fully gained or richly merited the confidence of the people of Ulster county than the present surrogate. As a judge his record is almost without parallel. It is the remarkable fact that after five years and eight months on the bench in a court where millions of dollars are annually dealt with and involved situations and intricate questions of law are constantly arising every official act of Judge Kaufman stands today exactly as he did it. No act or decision of Surrogate Kaufman has ever been reversed or even modified by any appellate court during his entire term. Lawyers practicing in surrogate's court have long since recognized Surrogate Kaufman to be a most able, painstaking and thoroughly sound judge.

To the popular mind, however, another feature of Judge Kaufman's work has appealed perhaps even more strongly. Upon entering the office he had the good sense to recognize the fact that the surrogate's court is primarily a family court where family finances and ofttimes intimate complications resulting from deaths are adjusted and where sympathetic understanding and the exercise of good common sense are often more effective and helpful than rigorous applications of strict legal rules. His attitude in such matters has consistently been that of a friendly arbitrator seeking to have families settle their grievances fairly and equitably among themselves without resort to troublesome and expensive litigations, and in these endeavors he has been remarkably successful. He seems to possess an unusual ability to strike straight to the heart of family dissension and by the exercise of tact and good common sense to bring peace and harmony out of discord and strife. The number of family feuds that have been prevented and the litigation expenses that have been saved by the surrogate's friendly offices and good judgment in such matters are incalculable.

In every way Surrogate Kaufman's conduct has been clean, fair and able. He is recognized today as one of the best surrogates in the entire state. He has earned and enjoys the confidence of the people of Ulster county irrespective of party affiliation and should be returned to the office of surrogate for a second term by one of the largest majorities ever polled in Ulster county.

NOW QUICK TO FORGET.

In a recent address to people of her native country Lady Astor, who "clings to her Virginia speech though she wears the title of Viscountess," called attention to the fact that she was speaking on the day when Germany's representatives took their seats in the League of Nations, less than eight years after the close of the World War, and recalled that it was twelve years after the close of the Civil War before the Southern States secured fair representation in Congress. Therefore she was of the opinion that Americans, instead of "holding up their hands in horror over Europe," ought to "throw up their hats and rejoice that the world is getting better."

She might have added that, though we seem to have forgiven Germany already, it was much more than twelve years, and indeed a generation, before anything like real friendly feeling toward the South was general in the North. But as to whether this marked contrast indicates that the world "is getting better" there may be some difference of opinion. It is certain indication, however, that the public now forgets far more quickly because of the hurrying on to new and ever more new interests

Edward VII, when Prince of Wales, was accepted as an arbiter elegantiarum, giving to the world of men the "Prince Albert" and later the Tuxedo and other fashions, but his son, King George, has been unsuccessful in this line, and is now said at last to have given up crossing his trousers down the sides, instead of down the front and back, because nobody followed his example—as he might have known from the outset.

It is announced that a great church advertising campaign, backed by an interdenominational commission of clergymen, will be conducted by the International Advertising Association with a view to "sell religion" Doubtless there will be some disposition to question the character of religion that can be "sold" by professional advertisers.

One thing about it is, the campaign, with the conventions held the last of the month, will be short. It will be long enough, however, for the spellbinders to talk the people to death, those that want to die that way. Seriously, though, a campaign has an educative value to those who will listen to what is said.

That Body of Yours

THE BLOOD IN HEALTH AND ILLNESS.

Over a century ago a celebrated British surgeon noted that in blood collected from patients with inflammatory ailments the little corpuscles settled to the bottom of the vessels more quickly than in health, and the rate of this "settling" was in proportion to the severity of the infection. Just why this was not further investigated I am unable to say, but in 1917 and since that time, throughout Italy, Germany and America, more investigations have been made as to just why this early settling of the corpuscles takes place in ill health.

Now although they do not know fully just why it happens, the point for you and me is that it does happen.

For instance in normal individuals, the time required for all the corpuscles to settle down is from 8 to 16 hours in women, and from 10 to 20 in men.

However, there are great variations in this, and research men tell us that only individuals in which the settling takes 3 hours or less should be considered as not normal.

And so they classify cases into four groups. First, 30 minutes or less, second, 30 to 60 minutes, third 60 to 120 minutes, and fourth, over 120 minutes.

Where it is 30 minutes or less it usually means an acute pus condition, but where it is over 120 minutes, there is not likely to be any pus.

Now how can this knowledge be made useful in medicine and surgery? Well in pneumonia it would show 30 minutes, and in tuberculosis or abscessed teeth, it would be 60 to 120 minutes.

Thus a physician would know immediately if it was only 30 minutes that he had an acute condition to treat.

Further, if a second test showed the blood settling in even less than 30 minutes he would know that the case was taking an unfavorable turn, whereas if the second test took longer than 30 minutes he would know that the patient was likely on the way to recovery. Now there are other methods of ascertaining the above information, by the temperature, heart conditions, number of white corpuscles, and so forth, but this settling of the corpuscles, or "sediment" test as it is called, is just one more aid. Also where other symptoms might seem to conflict, it should help to confirm the diagnosis. It may not always be necessary, or in some cases it may not be advisable to make it, so don't feel that you or yours are being neglected if the test is not made.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles.

Admiral George Clinton Arrives as Governor of New York September 20, 1741.

In the autumn of 1743, Governor George Clarke was superseded by Sir George Clinton, and Clark soon returned to England, wealthy and still in possession of much land in the western part of the State.

Clinton was the second son of Francis, the sixth Earl of Lincoln, and admiral of the British navy and carried into the governorship for the twelve years of his administration all the old time maritimeism of the quarter deck He was unfettered, and of an irritable temperament. Desirous of improving his fortune, and neither sensitive nor scrupulous, he soon effected a good understanding with the Assembly. This he well understood how to accomplish as he had previously served as governor of Newfoundland, 1732-1737.

Clinton was appointed governor of New York on May 21, 1741, but did not arrive in the Province until September 20 following. He came with his wife and family of young children, among whom was the future Sir Henry Clinton, commander-in-chief of the British forces during the Revolutionary War.

Clinton's term was one incessant struggle and contest with the Assembly, which had become more and more aggressive and reluctantly granted money for salaries of officers, except by name, which amounted to the assumption of the appointing power.

In all these controversies, most of which were instigated by Chief Justice James DeLancey, in whom Governor Clinton had placed his confidence, but with whom he is said to have quarreled over their "cups", the opposition was unremitting. When the governor became estranged from DeLancey he took Cadwallader Colden, a bitter opponent of the chief justice, into his favor.

DeLancey placed himself at the head of the opposition to Clinton, and as the majority of the Assembly were his relations and friends, a series of violent attacks were made upon the executive, which lasted during the whole period that Clinton remained in the Province.

As if to add to his troubles, the peace of thirty years between France and England was broken when war was declared in March, 1741. This was known in America as "King George's War." It was not distinguished by many stirring events on this continent, the most important of which was the capture of Louisburg and its strong fortress on the island of Cape Breton, which the French had erected after the treaty of Utrecht at a cost of $5,500,000. New York assisted with artillery and Pennsylvania with provisions. The New England colonies furnished their proper quota of men. This action had the common danger in teaching the necessity for a political union of the English American colonies fully thirty years before the union was effected.

The immense frontier of New York was exposed to the easy inroads of the common enemy. The Six Nations formed a trustworthy but not an omnipotent defense. The garrisons at Albany, Schenectady and Oswego were strengthened, and the erection of block houses was begun on the upper Hudson.

Notwithstanding these precautions 500 French Canadians and Huron Indians and a few disaffected Iroquois warriors swept down the upper valley of the Hudson late in the fall of 1745, as far as Saratoga, leaving there a horrible record, and spreading the wildest alarm among the frontier settlements, far and near. The invaders rendezvoused at Crown Point, on Lake Champlain, where they resolved to sweep down toward Albany and cut off the advancing English settlements.

Saratoga was a scattered village at the confluence of the Fish Creek and Hudson river, near present site of Schuylerville. It then comprised about thirty families, many of them tenants of Philip Schuyler, brother of the mayor of Albany, and owner of all the lands in the vicinity. The Invaders surprised the inhabitants during the night of November 16, murdered Mr. Schuyler, plundered and burnt the village, and carried away over one hundred men, women and children, as captives.

In August and September, 1746, Governor Clinton held a council at Albany with the Six Nations, during which the success of the English arms was explained to the savages, and presents lavished upon them. The Indians agreed to join the English procession.

Governor Clinton accumulated a princely fortune during his administration and wearied, worried and disgusted, he resigned his office in the summer of 1753, and on September 7 gave into the hands of his successor, Sir Danvers Osborne, the great seal of the Province.

Governor Osborne hanged himself with his handkerchief September 12, five days after his arrival in New York.

Governor Clinton, on returning to England, became a member of Parliament, and received the sinecure post as governor of Greenwich Hospital, which he held until his death on July 10, 1761.

COL. MARKLE CALLED ON FORMER COMRADE

Col. George Markle of the State Treasurer's office at Albany was in Kingston Friday to attend the reunion of the 80th New York Volunteers which he served with during the Civil War. At the same time he made a call on his friend of boyhood days, Westbrook Krom, at 185 Elmendorf street, who could not attend on account of a broken hip and knee and has been confined to the house under the care of an attendant for more than two years. Comrade Krom was pleased to hear "the boys" had a good time with the ladies of the association as hostesses.

Finding a Mare's Nest

A "mare's nest" is something which seems wonderful upon discovery, but which upon examination turns out to be misapprehension or a hoax. As one writer puts it, "to find a mare's nest is to make what you suppose a great discovery, but which turns out to be all moonshine." "Mare's nest" is also applied to what is preposterously absurd although believed by the credulous. The true origin of the phrase "mare's nest" is unknown.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Thoreau's Tribute to Wonders of Nature

Nature has taken more care than the fondest parent for the education and refinement of her children. Consider the silent influence which flowers exert, no less upon the ditcher in the meadow than the lady in the bower.

When I walk in the woods I am reminded that a wise purveyor has been there before me; my most delicate experience is typified there. I am struck with the pleasing friendships and unanimities of nature, as when the lichen on the trees takes the form of their leaves. In the most stupendous scenes you will see delicate and fragrant features, as slight wreaths of vapor, dewdrops, feathery sprays, which suggest a high refinement, a noble breeding, as it were. Bring a spray from the wood, or a crystal from the brook, and place it on your mantel, and your household ornaments will seem plebeian beside its nobler fashion and bearing. It will wave superior there, as if used to a more refined and polished circle. It has a salute and a response to all your enthusiasm and heroism.—Thoreau.

Curious Old Church in Heart of London

Porters and clerks at Denmark Hill railway station, South London, often work to the accompaniment of hymns sung lustily by a congregation in a disused waiting room next to the booking office. The Mystical Council of the Comforter is one of London's most curious churches. Babies are baptized in a room that was once only used by impatient travelers waiting for their trains; funeral services are read in it and a marriage has been solemnized. This church has been in existence for about six years. One end of the former waiting room has been transformed by an altar painted white and surrounded by the seven colors of the rainbow. Seven steps lead up to the altar, and at the side are two pillars representing beauty and strength. Everything is done by symbols in this remarkable church, and the badge worn by members is a dove, standing in a circle with a seven-leafed branch in its beak. The leader and founder of the church is a woman with the official title of "messenger."

Tug Carried Off Captors

In the days when enormous rafts of logs were towed down the Detroit river by sea-going tugs, the tug Champion was famous and had a famous captain, says Capper's Weekly. The Champion committed some infraction of Canadian marine laws, and, putting into port on the Canadian side, was seized by the authorities. Additional bow and stern lines hitched it to the dock and as an extra precaution two Canadian tugs, with steam up, were made fast to this splendid American tug. The Champion's captain proceeded calmly with his cooling, then cast off the extra lines and towed the two Canadian tugs out to the lightship in Lake Erie, despite their united efforts to hold the Champion.

Elbow Bracelets

The graduated bangles which have been worn around the neck now have been adapted for the army and are worn just above and below the elbow. They are of gold drawn wire and are round and flat in shape. Five are usually worn on the arm, but only one arm is so decorated.

Wrote His Novels In the Bathroom

...ie Gives Interesting Anecdotes Concerning Joseph Conrad—English Consider Ice Cream Manufacture May Aid Dairy Industry.

London Sept. 20 (AP).—Lovers' quarrels are frequently patched up by the use of special messages on the icing of cakes. These messages are sent by one disconsolate lover to the other, often with happy results, especially at Christmas time, say the bakers. Cake baking to supply the British possessions for next Christmas is now at its height in England. Tons of cakes are being sent to South Africa, Australia, Singapore and other parts of the world where there are English colonies.

British scientists are endeavoring to increase the life of the ladybird. They desire to develop a family of ladybirds which will withstand the English winters, and be good and hungry in the spring with the arrival of the greenfly, the bane of the English gardeners. The trouble has been that the ladybird, which is fond of the greenfly for breakfast, lunch and dinner, has not been getting on the eating job early enough.

Colonel Walter Guinness, Minister of Agriculture, explained all about the ladybird work in the House of Commons in defending some of the expenditures of his department.

Mr. Lloyd George, whose land policy favors doing everything possible to aid the farmer, as well as others, approves Colonel Guinness' welfare work in the ladybird's behalf.

Joseph Conrad may have been a very heroic figure to millions of readers who never saw him, but he was an eccentric genius who burned holes in the tablecloth with cigarettes and often insisted on writing in the bathroom.

Mrs. Conrad's "Joseph Conrad as I Knew Him" makes her late husband appear quite unlike the distant, unapproachable figure popular reports have made him. He had toothache very frequently, and had to be supplied with hot water bags and coddled just as millions of other men with the same ailment.

Finishing a novel was always a great trial with Conrad. His steam got low toward the end, and it was then that Mrs. Conrad had to guard the novelist with great care against all intruders and humor him in any whim which struck him.

Mrs. Conrad's book makes it clear that the public is under great obligations to her for the part she played in smoothing the path of the great novelist, who was seldom in good health and very dependent upon the mothering his wife gave him when he was writing under great physical and mental stress.

Ice cream, so long a staple article of diet in the United States but until recently regarded in England as nothing more than a rather dubious luxury, finally has won official recognition here as a valuable foodstuff. Duplication of the American plan of its centralized manufacture on a large scale under modern methods of efficiency and cleanliness is recommended by the Imperial Economic Committee on Marketing.

"As a branch of the dairying industry," says the committee's report on the subject, "the manufacture of ice cream would provide an important outlet for the milk products of the United Kingdom, particularly during the summer when the production of milk exceeds the demand.

"If a popular taste for ice cream of high food value were cultivated in the United Kingdom, the dairying industry would be assisted by an increased demand for its products and a consequent stabilization of the milk market during the period of maximum output."

Just after her employer had told her he was so pleased with her work that he intended making her his chief buyer, Mrs. Hannah Mattida Busch, middle-aged saleswoman in a draper's establishment in Liverpool, went home and hanged herself.

Her sister told the authorities that Mrs. Busch expressed dread of the responsibilities she would have to assume in her new position.

Rich Gift to World

William Sturgeon, British shoemaker, private soldier and scientist, gave to the world the electro-magnet, one of the most important of electrical devices, but like many other inventors, he spent his later years in penury. His invention is in some form or another the fundamental element in the dynamo, the electric motor, the transformer, nearly every telegraphic instrument, the telephone, the loading coil, and the electric bell, says the New York World. Sturgeon made the first electro-magnet with a rod of iron, half an inch in diameter and a foot long, bent into the form of a horseshoe and wound, spiral fashion, with 18 turns of bare copper wire.

The Buttered Side

Doris already had eaten two slices of bread, the first with butter on it, when her instructions had been given to "put lots of butter on, so's it'll taste good." She had been even more explicit about the second slice.

"I want some bread and butter; put some jelly on, too, and put the jelly on top."

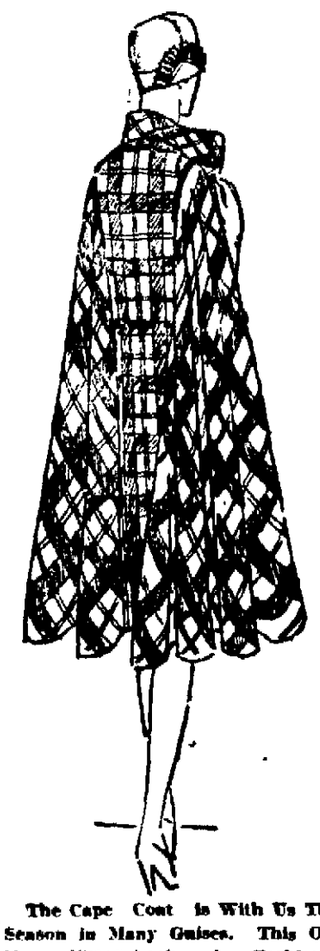
When Doris' little face appeared at the dining room door for the third time her demand was brief and to the point. "I want the butter on top this time."

Eleanor Gunn
On Fashions

Coats Find Themselves Varied and Subject to the Same Influences as Make for Interest in Dresses—Reversible or Fur-lined Ones Are Of Great Moment.

Every so often, French designers get a whiff of the heather in their nostrils and decide that the Highland Tartan shall become the vogue. This state of mind usually manifests itself in the fall, since there is something about a warm plaid which suggests the frost on the pumpkin and the return to the class room.

Paris dared to launch plaids, however, long before it was time to think of returning to school or to relatively warmer apparel, and, what is more, found the smart world rather receptive to their color and dash. For the autumn coat, plaids stand very high; for the autumn dress, they are well liked; and for the telltale trifles, such as a plaid purse or belt, they have many followers, as well as those who brighten their rainy days with colorful umbrellas and striking rain coats.



The Cape Coat is With Us This Season in Many Guises. This One Has a Fitted Back and is Fashioned of a Rich Scotch Tartan, Suggesting That it is Designed for Travel.

Capes and cape coats bid well to outlast this new season, for the tendency toward dolman lines or lines which flare or bag above the hips, on a line with the elbow. Many of the smartest coats have straight backs, but have their arms hidden under the flare or ripple of a cape. Coats fall under all of the influences that have been dominant this winter in dresses; they are often made with a circular skirt section, even a gathered one, the bodice being more or less molded.

Bloused backs prevail, large armholes are not taboo, and varieties include the always satisfactory Russian bloused effects, belted low. The frequently attempted directoire makes a plea for admission to the ranks, Suzanne Talbot and Molyneux being responsible for some models which show this picturesque tendency.

"I find it a marvelous help in my cooking"

Famous table delicacy now discovered to give you added skill in cooking

"I FIND First Prize Nut Margarine a big help for practically all my cooking," writes a charming young New Jersey housewife. "I begin in the morning by melting it deliciously over my husband's breakfast toast, griddle cakes or waffles, and end by using it to make the pies and cakes we have for dinner at night."

This famous table delicacy—which has long been used as a delicious spread for bread—is now discovered also to be a wonderful cooking and shortening ingredient, giving new skill and satisfaction in the culinary arts.

First Prize makes dishes rich and appetizing yet keeps them wholesome and digestible. Being made with pasteurized milk from the pure, nutritious kernels of cocoanuts and peanuts it is full of the vitamines so necessary to health and growth. It never browns in the pan; and is not absorbed by the food. Melt it over vegetables, or mix it in tasty white sauces. Add it to enrich gravies and soups.

First Prize makes the most delicious pies, cakes, and puddings, you ever tasted. They are amazingly rich and fluffy, and stay fresh and light a long time. Best of all, it is not expensive. Try a pound today.

Mrs. M. D. S's recipe* for Cocoanut Cake

½ cupful First Prize
1½ cupfuls powdered sugar
Beaten yolks and whites of 3 eggs
1 cupful milk — 2 scant cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Boiled Frosting and Grated Cocoanut

Cream First Prize; add gradually the powdered sugar, beaten egg yolks, milk and flour mixed and sifted with baking powder. Then add beaten egg whites. Bake in 3 layers. Spread between layers and on top boiled frosting to which grated cocoanut has been added. Sprinkle cocoanut over frosting.

Women Tell

Others how this new hygienic pad discards easily as tissue — no laundry

BECAUSE one woman so advises others, and because doctors so urge, most women are deserting the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new and better way.

Eight in 10 better-class women now use "KOTEX"

✓ Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

✓ Five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

✓ Deodorizes, thus ending ALL danger of offending.

Obtainable at all drug and department stores. Simply by saying "KOTEX." You ask for it without hesitancy.

Purchase of 12 costs only a few cents. Proves old ways needless risk. In fairness to yourself, try it.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by Mary Graham Bonner

PETER'S SIGHT-SEEING

Now Peter Gnome heard of people going to county fairs and on vacations and holidays and of this and that and the other thing.

Waiting for Her Clothes.

So he thought he would do a bit of sight seeing for himself!

He told them all about it when he got home at night. Of course he put on his invisible robe and went where there were children.

"I saw Lucy swimming under water," he said. "She was swimming wonderfully, and seemed to be as much at home under the water as on top of it.

"Then I saw Muriel get a wishbone and when she pulled it with some one she got the top of the wishbone and her wish came true.

"She wished for a special book she very much wanted as a present and that evening her daddy brought it home to her.

"Then I saw Mrs. Cucumber Green, who is the mother of Allie Bna. Allie's clothes had just been washed and her stockings and jacket and cap and scarf and all were hanging up on the line.

"They looked so cunning hanging up on the line.

"Allie was in bed waiting for her clothes. Allie, you know, is a rag doll and Mrs. Cucumber Green is the make-believe, play name, of her mother.

"I saw Mahalia who had just been to visit her cousins and had seen a bulldog named Nellie.

"Nellie was white and pretty old and clumsy, but still Nellie was so affectionate she wanted to get in Mahalia's lap.

"She pushed Mahalia into a chair so she would hold her and then she snored so loudly that you could have heard her in another room.

"But Nellie was a wise, smart dog and a good watchdog, too.

"She knew the steps of every member of the family and she knew strange steps, too.

"Then I heard two boys talking and how they did get the wrong words in the wrong places. But it seemed as though the words were having a game among themselves and were having a holiday and a change of scene and air by getting into another than their right places.

"Then I heard the old clock strike that gets so weary when it isn't wound up regularly.

"It loses, just as regularly as clock work, as the saying is, five minutes a day, and it is quite regular and exact about this!

"Then I saw a little girl named Teny and she had a little dog named Tiny.

"I saw a Teddy Bear sitting up in a chair beside a little girl and watching the little girl eating peas and potatoes and a chop.

"The bear's arms were stretched out as though to say that he loved the whole world and would clasp it in his little eager arms.

"There were two older Teddy Bears —or at least they were bigger and they all had black eyes and they all seemed to look so pleased that it seemed as though they were smiling.

"Then I saw all the clocks being put in Melly's room before she went to bed, for clocks and their ticking keep the members of her family awake, but Melly says they put her to sleep.

"So all the clocks are put in Melly's room before she goes to bed.

Watching the Little Girl.

"There is a regular procession of clocks at Melly's bedtime!

"I saw Paddy Brown, the little white dog, playing out-of-doors with little Christine, and remembered that the last time I had seen him he had been spending a great deal of time calling on little Dolly and sitting with her before the fire on the hug rug.

"He had said, in his manners, that he was never lonely with Dolly, sitting by the fire, but that of he was by himself he was apt to get lonely.

"Oh, I had a fine day of sight-seeing." And the Gnomes all agreed that it was so.

FACTS ABOUT TEA

Which Englishmen Know and Americans Should Know.

Tea heats the body in winter and cools it in summer. It serves not only as a tonic, but has a stimulative and bracing effect upon the whole nervous organization. Unlike other stimulants, no bad effects or depression follow its use.

These are facts which are generally well known in England, Canada, and Australia, and which American tea drinkers should know, but do not. They are based upon diligent and painstaking inquiries by experts and medical authorities, and are beyond question. The reason that Americans have been slow in acquiring the tea habit is because of the lack of education regarding the real benefits of tea, and the erroneous reports circulated in certain propaganda alleging the injurious effect upon the nerves. Nothing could be more erroneous than the statement that tea properly prepared is injurious. Of course, if it is prepared improperly or allowed to steep indefinitely, a bitterness results, because a considerable amount of tanic acid is developed. This acid, however, is entirely avoidable by making the tea properly.

Of course, it is essential, first of all to have good tea, in other words a standarized package tea, which ensures that it will be absolutely pure when opened. This is especially true of tea which is put up in aluminum packages, sealed air-tight.

Tea should always be infused, never boiled. Scald out an earthern or china teapot, and while it is warm put in a level teaspoonful of tea for every cup. Pour on freshly boiling water (making sure it is bubbling boiling), and allow it to steep for five minutes. Above all, don't indulge in that common habit of adding a few fresh tea leaves to the ones already used, thus making a second service.

Naturally

When a girl engages herself to wed a poet, it is usually a mark of improvidence. Mary, however, showed that she had a level head on her shoulders when she announced her engagement to her employer. "So you're going to marry a poet," he said. "Then I suppose you'll leave me." "Oh, no," Mary protested. "I don't intend to leave. But I'll need more salary."

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, Sept. 20.—The dedication and flag presentation of the new Kerhonkson High School will be given by the A. J. Anderson Council, No. 20, Jr. O. U. A. M., on Saturday, September 25, on the high school grounds. The parade will start from the council rooms at 2:30 p. m., standard time. Able State Council members will speak at 3 o'clock, followed by a clambake, entertainment and dance in the evening. Bake opens at 4 p. m., and will continue until all are served. A Kingston band will be in attendance. All councils of the valley are invited to take part, also school children and teachers. Everybody invited.

Mr. and Mrs. John Billias and family returned home from Stamford last week after spending the summer at that place.

Miss Ruth Green has returned to Pittsburgh after spending her vacation at her home here.

Mrs. L. Davis of Alligerville, is visiting her niece, Mrs. Melbourne Fluckiger. Mr. Fluckiger is spending some time at Binghamton.

Kenneth Sherman of Washington is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sherman.

Mrs. Alta Cross, who has been confined to her home with a severe attack of pleurisy, is able to be out and has again taken up her position as telephone operator in the local office. An operator from Kingston filled the vacancy during Mrs. Cross's illness.

Mrs. Arthur LeFever of Newburgh spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Addis.

Grant Schoonmaker has returned home from Stamford and is employed at James R. Doyle's.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sherman of Stone Ridge, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Christiana.

Harold Munson is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Munson.

Mrs. Florence Slater has moved into the Stokes house.

Longevity Rightcousness

In doing good you are generally called, and hanged, and slapped; and of all things should of being too much in the right. But the ends of malice and injustice are quite in another style. They are flattered with a bold, manly hand.—Edmund Burke.

Plants Grow Rapidly in Continuous Light

Experiments in the use of intensive illumination as an aid to horticulture were made recently with 1,000-watt gas-filled lamps equipped with large reflectors. In every case the progress of the plants was remarkable, says a writer.

The plants were placed under the light when buds were just beginning to form. Daffodils and Lent lilies, when placed under the light for six hours a night, flowered in four days, growing about an inch a day.

The rapid progress of vegetation in the Arctic regions, once the sun has reached a fair altitude, has already been noticed by travelers. This is most likely due to the fact that daylight is continuous, although the presence of an unusually high ultra violet content is probably an influential factor.

The same explanation may account for the rapid growth of wheat in regions such as Alberta, in Canada, where the whole process of sowing to harvesting has to be completed in five months.

Indian Gift

A deed signed by Indian chiefs seven years before the Revolutionary war, the signatures consisting of figures of birds, fish and other animals forming the symbols of the tribes concerned, would ordinarily be regarded as a historical curiosity. But an ancient document of this description became endowed with highly practical importance when it was offered as evidence in litigation over title to 2,500 acres of forest land in Hamilton county. The dispute, which has been in the courts for two decades, has at last been decided in favor of the state. It is an odd turn of events that brings into the transactions of a day of airplanes and radios a bit of paper signed by men whose means of rapid transit was the canoe and whose written communications were in hieroglyphics.—New York Evening Post.

Dividends Took Only 3½ Cents

Small Part of Gross Receipts of Corporations Applied to Dividends Even in Good Years—Operating Expenses Large—Big Cost of Materials in Manufacture.

New York, Sept. 20.—An average of only three and a half cents out of every dollar of gross receipts annually of all the corporations in the United States is applied to cash dividends even in good years, according to an analysis of corporate finances made by the National Industrial Conference Board, 247 Park avenue, New York. Cash dividends in 1923, the latest representative good year for which data are available, ranged from an average of 7 per cent of total receipts among corporations engaged in financial operations, such as banks, insurance companies and the like, to as low as an average of 1.2 per cent of total receipts in wholesale and retail trade. In the same year, transportation and public utility companies disbursed 6.3 per cent of their gross receipts as cash dividends, while the manufacturing companies' total cash dividends amounted to only 3.6 per cent of their total receipts. Dividends paid by the mining industry, while amounting to 6.1 per cent of the companies' aggregate receipts, were paid almost entirely out of reserve funds, only one-fifth of one per cent of their total receipts representing net profits for that year.

The total amount set aside in 1923 for improvements, expansion, making up previous losses and other capital reserves represented little more than 2 per cent of the total receipts of all corporations, and 2.6 per cent was charged to depreciation. This 2 per cent of gross receipts not disbursed as cash dividends also covers the item of stock dividends which loom so large in creating a popular impression of great prosperity in the case of a few individual companies. But the relative importance of such surplus earnings, as regards the business of the nation as a whole, in the light of the Conference Board's analysis obviously is very small, being only a fractional portion of 2 per cent of total receipts.

86 Per Cent Operating Expenses.

By far the greatest proportion of the gross income, 86.8 per cent or nearly nine-tenths of the total receipts of all corporations in 1923 went into operating expenses, covering wages, cost of materials, fuel, power and supplies, officers' salaries and miscellaneous overhead expenses. Taxes claimed 2.2 per cent and interest on borrowed capital 2.8 per cent of the total receipts.

These figures, the Conference Board points out, reflect the responsibility resting on management under the prevailing regime in which business depends on large turnover with relatively small profit per unit of sale. A five per cent shrinkage in the volume of sales of a company doing no better than the average, for instance, would be sufficient to endanger the margin of income available for dividends, and a 10 per cent drop in business activity could wipe out the entire net profit and might even result in a substantial deficit for the year, unless operating expenses can be sufficiently and promptly enough reduced to offset the decrease in sales.

Cost of Materials, 70 Per Cent.

In the manufacturing industries, wages, materials and supplies consume approximately 70.7 per cent of the total receipts, while such fixed charges as taxes, interest and depreciation in 1923 absorbed another 5.3 per cent, officers' salaries 1.7 per cent and miscellaneous overhead expenses 16.2 per cent. In times of declining business activity therefore only those industrial managers who were alert as to the changing business trend were able to effect the necessary economies in time to escape the necessity of reducing payrolls and of hazarding profits.

Contrary to popular impression, the margin of total receipts representing net profits of corporations engaged in wholesale and retail trade is smaller than that in any other line of business activity. It amounted to only 2.6 per cent in 1923, and strikingly reflects the prevailing tendency of large turnover at a small profit per sale. Only a little more than one per cent of total receipts was paid out as cash dividends in that year by trading corporatoins, 1.4 per cent of their gross income representing earnings set aside for expansion, improvements and to make up past losses.

Wadsworth is Man of Action

His Personality, Activity and Valuable Services Vividly Portrayed in Biographical Sketch Just Issued—Some of His Outstanding Characteristics.

James W. Wadsworth, Jr., has been United States Senator from New York since 1915 yet his personality has not been sufficiently brought home to the public outside of the neighborhod of Geneseo where folks can remember him as first baseman on the home team and as going from Yale into volunteer service in the Spanish-American War. "James W. Wadsworth, Jr. — A Biographical Sketch", by Henry F. Holthusen, with a preface by Hon. Elihu Root, is just off the press of G. P. Putnam's Sons and gives the reader a neighborly sense of Wadsworth's personality as well as an understanding appreciation of his principles and record as a statesman. The work is dedicated to the Senator's father and how intimate a picture is gives may be judged from its description of an incident of Wadsworth's life on the farm his father gave him on his return from war service:

When Jim Saved the Steers.

"On July 4, 1902, the Genesee river, flowing through the flats, suddenly broke its banks and sending its rushing waters over the land, forced Jim's 160 steers to seek refuge on a knoll. Rising steadily, the waters crept up the knoll until the cattle were standing knee deep in a sea of water. Wadsworth was faced with certain loss of his cattle if he did not get them out at once. Jumping into a boat with two other men, Jim rowed to the cattle. Wading, without shoes, through the waters and seemingly stepping on every thistle on the place, he drove the cattle ahead of him, using the rowboat to give them a lead, and swimming with the now half-crazed steers across a deep gully he managed, after two hours of hectic effort, to reach high ground and save every one of them."

Assembly Speaker Four Terms.

In 1902 Senator Wadsworth married a daughter of Secretary of State John Hay and in 1904, at his father's instance and after consultation with his father-in-law, he became a candidate for the assembly. As such, he found invaluable the wide acquaintanceship he had gained as an amateur baseball player. In the assembly his quiet worth produced such an impression that Governor Higgins put him forward as a candidate for the speakership the following year. In a spirited contest he secured the Republican nomination and the election. He organized the Assembly and was four times re-elected speaker. He successfully led the Assembly in its refusal to accept Goverpor Hughes's statewide direct nominating primaries, notwithstanding the intervention of ex-President Roosevelt, and he supported his stand by arguments which later experience vindicated.

Nominated to Succeed Root.

In 1910 he declined a renomination to the Assembly and, after a European tour, he became in 1911 the active manager of a Texas ranch —525,000 acres. There he remained for five years—a phase of Wadsworth's life unknown to the general public—but was dramatically recalled to political office.

As the biographer tells it: "He was out on the range with the outfit, about thirty miles from headquarters, toward the day's end, and was just winding up the day's work in a branding pen when a cowboy came riding over the hill. He had covered thirty miles of rough country road, and drawing up alongside his boss, he said drawlingly: 'Mr. Wadsworth, I brought a telegram out for you that they telephoned from town out to headquarters. The operator said we had better get it to you as soon as we could, so I just thought I would ride down here to give it to you.' With that, the cowboy gave Wadsworth the message taken over the telephone at headquarters. It was to the effect that a mass meeting at Geneseo had adopted a resolution in which, after reciting the decision of Mr. Elihu Root not to run again for office and expressing great regret at his decision, those present at the meeting, as the friends and neighbors of Mr. Wadsworth, urged him to offer himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator of the United States in the coming primaries."

His Activity in Senate.

Elected Senator in 1914 with a plurality of 67,000 votes, Wadsworth was re-elected in 1920 with a plurality of 520,000 votes after taking a decided stand against President Wilson on the League of Nations issue. During the war he had been active, as a member of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, in supporting its effective prosecution, and after its close he had a great share in the preparation of the National Defense Act of 1920, which for the first time in our history embodied a definite military policy insuring the organization necessary for our defense in the event of war.

Senator Wadsworth has stood for a protective tariff equalizing the cost of production at home and abroad and has supported the Coolidge economy program in its entirety. He has been alive to the human aspects of public affairs and the effect of legislation upon personal happiness. His consideration for those in the government service and his amendments to the immigration laws have manifested this interest.

Farming His Only Business.

Like his ancestors who have bequeathed to him from colonial times an inheritance of stanch Americanism and manly force of character, Wadsworth has had no other business than farming. He has followed the family tradition, to maintain the fertility of the soil by keeping livestock, to which is fed all the grain fodder raised on the farm, and to keep regular accounts. He is practical, a successful farmer, and his views on agricultural topics and on the need of maintaining our agricultural population are of great interest. Senator Wadsworth is a farmer legislator and, as Mr. Root observes in his preface, "it is vastly important * * * to have in the Senate of the United States a man of power and integrity, with the understanding which comes directly upon production from the soil, and the sympathy which comes from working with his own hands upon eastern farms and western ranches. For service in this field as a Senator, Wadsworth is worth his weight in gold."

Commendation From Root.

A preface from Mr. Root is itself a commendation and every reader can safely for himself Mr. Root's opening statement: "The readers of this compact biography of Senator Wadsworth will find it much more interesting than the contribution which literature made to politics when Hawthorne wrote his campaign life of Franklin Pierce."

The author, Henry F. Holthusen, was at one time mayor, judge advocate, Maritime Admin. U. S. A. and more recently special assistant to the attorney-general of the United States. He is a member of the law firm of House, Holthusen & McCloskey of New York city and chairman of the executive committee of the New York County Republican Club.

The Flavor Depends on the Range!

To a great extent the flavor of the foods you serve depends on your range. Whether you use the surface burners, the oven or the broiler, the operation of the range is most important.

And speaking of flavor, the broiler on the modern gas range brings out the best there is in steaks, chops and fish. It makes them more appetizing as well as more nutritious.

You can depend on our Clark Jewel, Smooth-top and A-B gas ranges. They have been approved by the American Gas Association, and satisfactory installation is made by our company.

REAL ESTATE BONDS.

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 20.—(Special). An unprecedented real-estate boom has been in progress. As a result there are real-estate bonds sold, or being sold, that will some day bring grief to the purchasers. For the past two years a flood of real-estate financing has swept the country, and it is only natural that bad securities have come along with the good. So far, little has occurred to show them up because new floors, stores and apartments are always in demand. However, more "vacant" signs are seen in the older buildings and that eventually means lower rentals all around. Most of the recent home issues are good but the least an investor can do is to carefully analyze his real-estate bonds and know how much real value there is to support them. The cost of building has continued at a high rate although there has been some decline since the peak of 1920.

Since 1922, when building costs were the lowest in the past six years, costs have steadily risen until in 1925 they stand at 10 per cent lower than the 1920 peak and 113 per cent over the pre-war level. The real-estate bonds now being put out are on high cost building. Should the cost of building decrease within the next five years, as many believe it will, the values securing real-estate bonds should be most carefully watched.

THUG STRANGLES NEWARK WOMAN; HUSBAND SLEEPS

Aged Man, Almost Helpless, Awakes to Find Wife Strangled.

Newark, N. J.—The sunlight was streaming across the floor of Harry Tidor's bedroom in the rear of his store at 149 Bergen street when he awoke. By that he knew that it was after seven o'clock. Tidor, who is seventy-four years old, is deaf and the keen observation of those so afflicted had been intensified during the two weeks that he had been confined to his bed by a stroke of paralysis.

He sniffed for the odor of coffee, confident that his wife, Mary, had followed her usual custom of getting up at six o'clock to start breakfast and open the store. He could detect neither the odor of the coffee nor the "stingy" smell which came from the oil stove when it was first lighted. By these things he knew that his wife was still in bed and he rolled toilfully on his side to confirm by sight the evidence of his other senses.

Dazzled by Sunlight.

At first the sunlight dazzled him, though he could discern the figure of his wife in her bed. He called to her in his croaking, slurring voice. There was no reply.

As the old man's eyes became more accustomed to the light, he saw that the attitude of his wife was strained and that there was something strange about her face. It was livid against the white of the pillow and beneath it her throat was swathed with white.

. . Vainly Called His Wife.

"Ma'y!" called the paralytic. "Ma'y."

The figure on the bed a few feet away lay motionless and silent, contorted as though in agony.

With the unthinking effort of panic, Tidor, who had not left his bed since he was stricken with paralysis two weeks ago, flung himself to the floor and began to writhe across its sunlit surface toward his wife's bed. It took him several seconds, but he reached it, flinging his hand against one of hers, as he lay on the floor. The hand was cold, the arm rigid.

Helpless, now that his worst fear was realized, Tidor groveled on the floor beside his dead wife and shouted until he was hoarse and his voice rattled in his throat. His neighbor, Mrs. William Stevens, who lives on the floor above, was at the door, knocking and calling to him, but he could not hear her and continued to shout.

Policeman Summoned.

She got a policeman and between them they got the aged man into a chair in another room where he would not have to look upon the body of his wife. Then detectives were called.

Mrs. Tidor, who was seventy-two years old, had been strangled by a towel, which was knotted about her throat. The ends had been thrust into her mouth as a gag. The stub of a cigarette lay on the floor. The strangler had smoked it to within less than half an inch of its end as he worked. A package of similar cigarettes lay near by.

A window had been forced as it had been twice before when burglars looted the little store. This time, however, either the somewhat stentorian breathing of the paralytic, or the gleam of his eyeballs, over which the lids do not drop completely in sleep, had got on the nerves of the intruder.

He had not visited the store. Its stock was intact and the cash register, which contained a small sum, had not been opened. Forty-two dollars lay in plain sight on a bureau in the bedroom, but that had not been taken either.

"Homeliest Man" Shoots Pair

Chicago.—Sensitive about being called the "homeliest man" employed in a local business house, and believing Edward Parr and his wife, Irma, had made a remark about his appearance, Fletcher Andrews shot and wounded the pair on a street corner here. Parr died later.

Andrews, formerly of Dallas, Texas, was arrested as he attempted to escape.

Killed in Cloudburst

Chemung, N. Y.—Caught in the middle of a field during a cloudburst, Stella Peppard, thirteen years old, was drowned. Her body was carried a mile. A sister saved her life by clinging to bushes.

Boy Strangled in Game of "Hangman"

Derby, Kan.—The game of hangman cost Newton Snyder, sixteen years old, his life here.

With other lads, the youth had fastened a rope to a rafter in the basement of his home. First one and then another of the boys placed the rope about his neck and jumped from a box without being injured. Snyder then arranged the noose for his own neck and leaped. The noose tightened with a jerk and he was strangled to death before he could be released.

KILLED OWN BABY AS TEST OF FAITH

Leader of Spanish Religious Cult Beheads Child.

Santander, Spain.—While members of his religious cult knelt in prayer in a circle about him, Malo Lopez killed his twenty-month-old son with an ax. Lifting the head of the child into the air, Lopez asserted he had killed the baby "at the command of God" to test his faith. A passing soldier, attracted by the gathering, called help, and more than two dozen men and women were arrested.

Lopez recently founded a strange religious cult whose members make a habit of fasting and beating one another with wooden rods as tests of faith. Lopez always remained foodless longer and suffered more blows than did any of his followers.

The man is believed to have devised the sacrifice of his infant son as demonstration of his supreme faith and the right to be leader of the cult. Despite the protests of his wife, he invited all his followers to attend the ceremony.

Lopez killed the baby with one blow of the ax. The father, who authorities assert is sane, is held for murder, as is his wife and a priest of the sect. The other prisoners are charged with being accessories to the slaying of the little victim.

Demented Son Slays Mother With Torture

Springfield, Mass. — Richard C. Bearse, twenty-six, mechanical engineer, slew his mother by torturous mutilations that left him apparently insane. He was found talking incoherently and sitting beside the body of his parent, with whom he had lived alone for fourteen years.

Bearse, who was a university graduate, had not previously shown signs of mental lapse.

Whether he became enraged at his mother over a personal affair or was mentally unbalanced through worry over his parent's health is not known.

A neighbor, hearing screams from the Bearse house, called the police. The police broke in. Bearse sat on the kitchen floor beside the body of his mother.

"She died twice in the night and I revived her once," he said.

Mrs. Bearse, fifty-five, married Fred S. Bearse, Hampden county treasurer, in 1891. In 1912 she obtained a divorce. Her husband continued to contribute to her support.

Alienists who examined Bearse declared him insane, and he was committed to an asylum for an indefinite period.

Back Broken, Walked for Week With Cane

Buffalo, N. Y.—After Edward Douglas Howard of Chicago, a junior at Williams college, had hobbled about with a cane for more than a week, physicians here discovered that he had a broken back. He was strapped into a specially made apparatus and taken to his father's summer home at Chautauqua to recuperate. Physicians said he would be able to play football in the fall of 1927.

Howard was injured more than a month ago when he dived into the shallow end of a pool at Williams and struck his head on the bottom. A short time later, while delirious, he leaped from the third story of the infirmary. He recovered sufficiently to come to Buffalo alone, where an X-ray examination revealed the broken vertebra.

Cut to Pieces When Caught in Machinery

Sturgeon Bay, Ont.—Caught in the gear of the rewinder in the paper mill of the Spanish River Pulp and Paper company, William Roy Smith, eighteen-year-old swiper, met a horrible death, being literally cut to pieces by the heavy machinery. The youth was employed in the finishing room of the paper mill, and had just completed spinning the roll on the calender of the machine. With a fellow-worker, the unfortunate youth was ready to go to another part of the mill, when, it is believed, he backed into the heavy gear of the rewinder. The body was cut to pieces before the machinery stopped. The accident took but the fraction of a minute.

First Fishing Rod Kills

Milton, Pa.—Happy with his first fishing rod, Charles Duvall, aged twelve, went fishing in the Susquehanna near here. He had a bite and raised his rod with a swish, having visions of a big fish. Overhead the tip of the rod touched a 2,300-volt electric wire and the lad was electrocuted.

Amendments to Constitution

EXPLANATION—Matter in italics is new; matter in brackets [ ] is old law to be omitted.

STATE OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE
ALBANY, July 1, 1926

Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section sixty-eight of the Election Law, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of New York are referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators in this State to be held on the second day of November, 1926.

FLORENCE E. S. KNAPP,
Secretary of State.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION TWO OF ARTICLE ONE OF THE CONSTITUTION BY PROVIDING FOR THE IMPANELLING OF ADDITIONAL JURORS TO FILL VACANCIES WHICH MAY OCCUR PRIOR TO THE SUBMISSION OF THE CASE TO THE JURY.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section two of article one of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 2. The trial by jury in all cases in which it has been heretofore used shall remain inviolate forever, but the legislature may provide for the impanelling of additional jurors to attend during the trial to fill any vacancies which from any cause occur on a jury prior to the final submission of the case to the jury; but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all civil cases in the manner to be prescribed by law.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION TWO OF ARTICLE ONE OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO DEFENDANT'S WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL IN CRIMINAL CASES.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section two of article one of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 2. The trial by jury in all cases in which it has been heretofore used shall remain inviolate forever; but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all civil cases and by the defendant in all criminal cases, except where the penalty is death, in the manner to be prescribed by law.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION SEVEN OF ARTICLE ONE OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO EXCESS CONDEMNATION BY COUNTIES.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section seven of article one of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 7. When private property shall be taken for any public use, the compensation to be made therefor, when such compensation is not made by the state, shall be ascertained by a jury, or by the supreme court with or without a jury, but not with a referee, or by not less than three commissioners appointed by a court of record, as shall be prescribed by law. Private roads may be opened in the manner to be prescribed by law, but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of all damage to be sustained by the opening thereof shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders, and such amount, together with the expenses of the proceedings, shall be paid by the person to be benefited. The use of property for the drainage of swamp or agricultural lands is declared to be a public use and general laws may be passed permitting the owner or occupants of swamp or agricultural lands to construct and maintain for the drainage thereof, necessary drains, ditches and dykes upon the lands of others, under proper restrictions on making just compensation, and such compensation together with the cost of such drainage may be assessed, wholly or partly, against any property benefited thereby, but no special laws shall be enacted for such purposes. The legislature may authorize cities and counties to take more land and property than is needed for actual construction in the laying out, widening, extending or relocating parks, public places, highways or streets; provided, however, that the additional land and property so authorized to be taken shall be no more than sufficient to form suitable building sites abutting on such park, public place, highway or street. After so much of the land and property has been appropriated for such park, public place, highway or street as is needed therefor, the remainder may be sold or leased.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO SECTION TWO OF ARTICLE THREE, SECTION ONE OF ARTICLE FOUR AND SECTION ONE OF ARTICLE FOURTEEN OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO THE TERMS OF OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR AND LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, AFFECTING IN LIKE MANNER THE TERMS OF OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER AND ATTORNEY GENERAL, AND IN RELATION TO THE TERMS OF OFFICE OF SENATORS AND MEMBERS OF ASSEMBLY AND THE METHOD OF AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section two of article three of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 2. The senate shall consist of fifty members, except as hereinafter provided. The senators elected in the year one thousand [eight] nine hundred and [ninety-five] twenty-six shall hold their offices for [three] two years, and their successors shall be chosen for [two] four years. The assembly shall consist of one hundred and fifty members[, who shall be chosen for one year]. The members of assembly elected in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven shall hold their office for one year, and their successors shall be chosen for two years.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section one of article four of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 1. The executive power shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for [two] four years; a lieutenant-governor shall be chosen at the same time, and for the same term. The governor and lieutenant-governor elected next preceding the time when this section as hereby amended shall take effect, shall hold office until and including the thirty-first day of December, one thousand [eight] nine hundred and [ninety-six] twenty-eight, and their successors shall be chosen at the general election in that year.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section one of article fourteen of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 1. Any amendment or amendments to this constitution may be proposed in the senate and assembly; and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals, and the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the legislature [to be] whose assembly shall have been chosen at the next general election of [senators] members of assembly, and shall be published for three months previous to the time of making such choice, and if in the legislature whose assembly shall have been so next chosen, as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the legislature to submit each proposed amendment or amendments to the people for approval in such manner and at such times as the legislature shall prescribe; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution from and after the first day of January next after such approval.

§ 4. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO SECTION SIX OF ARTICLE THREE AND SECTIONS FOUR AND EIGHT OF ARTICLE FOUR OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO THE SALARIES OF THE GOVERNOR, LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE.

* Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section six of article three of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 6. Each member of the legislature shall receive for his services an annual salary of [one] two thousand five hundred dollars. The members of either house shall also receive the sum of one dollar for every ten miles they shall travel in going to and returning from their place of meeting, once in each session on the most usual route. Senators, when the senate alone is convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of the court for the trial of impeachments, and such members of the assembly, not exceeding nine in number, as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment, shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That sections four and eight of article four of the constitution be amended to read, respectively, as follows:

§ 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the state. He shall have power to convene the legislature, or the senate only, on extraordinary occasions. At extraordinary sessions no subject shall be acted upon, except such as the governor may recommend for consideration. He shall communicate by message to the legislature at every session the condition of the state, and recommend such matters to it as he shall judge expedient. He shall transact all necessary business with the officers of government, civil and military. He shall expedite all such measures as may be resolved upon by the legislature, and shall take care that the laws are faithfully executed. He shall receive for his services an annual salary of [ten] twenty-five thousand dollars, and there shall be provided for his use a suitable and furnished executive residence.

§ 8. The lieutenant-governor shall receive for his services an annual salary of [five] ten thousand dollars, and shall not receive or be entitled to any other compensation, fee or perquisite, for any duty or service he may be required to perform by the constitution or by law.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendments be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of making such choice.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO PROVIDING FOR AN EXECUTIVE BUDGET.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the constitution be amended by adding a new article to follow article four to be article four-a to read as follows:

ARTICLE IV-A

§ 1. On or before the fifteenth day of October in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-eight and in each year thereafter the head of each department of the state government, except the legislature and judiciary, shall submit to the governor itemized estimates of appropriations to meet the financial needs of such department, including a statement in detail of all moneys for which any general or special appropriation is desired at the ensuing session of the legislature, classified according to relative importance and in such form and with such explanation as the governor may require. Copies of such estimates shall be simultaneously furnished to the designated representatives of the appropriate committees of the legislature for their information.

The governor, after hearings thereon, at which he may require the attendance of heads of departments and their subordinates, shall revise such estimates according to his judgment. The representatives aforesaid of the committees of the legislature shall be invited to attend such hearings, and under regulations to be provided by law shall be entitled to make inquiry in respect to the estimates and the revision thereof.

Itemized estimates of the financial needs of the legislature certified by the presiding officer of each house and of the judiciary certified by the comptroller shall be transmitted to the governor on or before said fifteenth day of October for inclusion in the budget without revision but with such recommendation as he may think proper.

§ 2. On or before the fifteenth day of January next succeeding (except in the case of a newly elected governor and then on or before the first day of February) he shall submit to the legislature a budget containing a complete plan of proposed expenditures and estimated revenues. It shall contain all the estimates so revised or certified and clearly itemized, and shall be accompanied by a bill or bills for all proposed appropriations and reappropriations; it shall show the estimated revenues for the ensuing fiscal year and the estimated surplus or deficit of revenues at the end of the current fiscal year together with the measures of taxation, if any, which the governor may propose for the increase of the revenues. It shall be accompanied by a statement of current assets, liabilities, reserves and surplus or deficit of the state; statements of the debts and funds of the state, an estimate of its financial condition as of the beginning and end of the ensuing fiscal year; and a statement of revenues and expenditures for the two fiscal years next preceding said year in form suitable for comparison. The governor may before final action by the legislature thereon, and not more than thirty days after submission thereof, amend or supplement the budget; he may also with the consent of the legislature, submit such amendment or a supplemental bill at any time before the adjournment of the legislature.

A copy of the budget and of any amendments or additions thereto shall be forthwith transmitted by the governor to the comptroller.

§ 3. The governor and the heads of departments shall have the right, and it shall be the duty of the heads of departments when requested by either house of the legislature, to appear and be heard in respect to the budget during the consideration thereof, and to answer inquiries relevant thereto. The procedure for such appearance and inquiries shall be provided by law. The legislature may not alter an appropriation bill submitted by the governor except to strike out or reduce items therein, but it may add thereto items of appropriation provided that such additions are stated separately and distinctly from the original items of the bill and refer each to a single object or purpose; none of the restrictions of this provision, however, shall apply to appropriations for the legislature or judiciary. Such a bill when passed by both houses shall be a law immediately without further action by the governor, except that appropriations for the legislature and judiciary and separate items added to the governor's bills by the legislature shall be subject to his approval as provided in section nine of article four.

§ 4. Neither house shall consider further appropriations until the appropriation bills proposed by the governor shall have been finally acted on by both houses; nor shall such further appropriations be then made except by separate bills each for a single work or object, which bills shall be subject to the governor's approval as provided in section nine of article four. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the governor from recommending that one or more of his proposed bills be passed in advance of the others to supply the immediate needs of government or to meet an emergency.

ferred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION FOUR OF ARTICLE FIVE OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO THE HEAD OF THE EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT IN THE STATE GOVERNMENT.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), that section four of article five of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 4. The head of the executive department shall be the governor. The head of the department of audit and control shall be the comptroller and of the department of law, the attorney-general. The head of the department of education shall be the regents of the university of the state of New York, who shall appoint and at pleasure remove a commissioner of education to be the chief administrative officer of the department. The head of the department of agriculture and markets shall be appointed in a manner to be prescribed by law. Except as otherwise provided in this constitution, the heads of all other departments and the members of all boards and commissions mentioned in this article, excepting temporary commissions for special purposes, shall be appointed by the governor by and with the advice and consent of the senate and may be removed by the governor, in a manner to be prescribed by law.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION SEVEN OF ARTICLE SEVEN OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO THE FOREST PRESERVE.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section seven of article seven of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 7. The lands of the state, now owned or hereafter acquired, constituting the forest preserve as now fixed by law, shall be forever kept as wild forest lands. They shall not be leased, sold or exchanged, or be taken by any corporation, public or private, nor shall the timber thereon be sold, removed or destroyed. Nothing contained in this section shall prevent the state from constructing a state highway from Saranac lake in Franklin county to Long lake in Hamilton county and thence to Old Forge in Herkimer county by way of Blue Mountain lake and Raquette lake, and nothing shall prevent the state from constructing a state highway in Essex county from Wilmington to the top of Whiteface mountain.

The legislature may by general laws provide for the use of not exceeding three per centum of such lands for the construction and maintenance of reservoirs for municipal water supply, for the canals of the state and to regulate the flow of streams. Such reservoirs shall be constructed, owned and controlled by the state, but such work shall not be undertaken until after the boundaries and high flow lines thereof shall have been accurately surveyed and fixed, and after public notice, hearing and determination that such lands are required for such public use. The expense of any such improvements shall be apportioned on the public and private property and municipalities benefited to the extent of the benefits received. Any such reservoir shall always be operated by the state and the legislature shall provide for a charge upon the property and municipalities benefited for a reasonable return to the state upon the value of the rights and property of the state used and the services of the state rendered, which shall be fixed for terms of not exceeding ten years and be readjustable at the end of any term. Unsanitary conditions shall not be created or continued by any such public works. A violation of any of the provisions of this section may be restrained at the suit of the people or, with the consent of the supreme court in appellate division, on notice to the attorney-general at the suit of any citizen.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in uniformity* with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER NINE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE SEVEN OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO THE CREATION OF A DEBT OR DEBTS OF THE STATE TO PROVIDE MONEYS FOR THE ELIMINATION OF RAILROAD CROSSINGS AT GRADE.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That article seven of the constitution be amended by adding at the end thereof a new section, to be section fourteen, to read as follows:

§ 14. The legislature may authorize by law the creation of a debt or debts of the state, not exceeding in the aggregate three hundred million dollars, to provide moneys for the elimination, under state supervision, of railroad crossings at grade within the state, at the expense of the state and railroad companies, or of the state, railroad companies and one or more municipal corporations. The term "municipal corporations," as used in this section, means counties, cities, towns and villages. Of the expense of a grade crossing elimination to which any of the proceeds of such a debt are applied, twenty-five per centum shall be borne by the state, twenty-five per centum by one or more municipal corporations, and fifty per centum by the railroad company, or companies, except that if a grade crossing elimination be on a state highway, fifty per centum of such expense shall be borne by the state and fifty per centum by the railroad company or companies. The legislature, by law, shall prescribe, or shall provide the manner for determining, whether the twenty-five per centum of expense herein required to be borne by one or more municipal corporations shall be borne wholly by one municipal corporation or apportioned between two or more, and, if so apportioned, the portion to be borne by each. Laws shall be enacted to provide for repayment to the state of moneys advanced in aid of railroad companies and municipal corporations, at such times, in such manner and with interest at such rate, that the state shall be able to pay when due the portion of the state debt equal to the proceeds which shall have been so advanced, and interest thereon. The provisions of this article, not inconsistent with this section, relating to the issuance of bonds for a debt or debts of the state and the maturity and payment thereof, shall apply to a state debt or debts created pursuant to this section; except that the law authorizing the contracting of such debt or debts shall take effect without submission to the people pursuant to section four of this article.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TEN

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION FOURTEEN OF ARTICLE SEVEN OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO A STATE DEBT OR DEBTS TO PROVIDE MONEYS FOR THE ELIMINATION OF RAILROAD CROSSINGS AT GRADE AND APPORTIONMENT OF EXPENSE THEREOF.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That section fourteen of article seven of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 14. The legislature may authorize by law the creation of a debt or debts of the state, not exceeding in the aggregate three hundred million dollars, to provide moneys for the elimination, under state supervision, of railroad crossings at grade within the state, at the expense of the state, railroad companies, counties and cities, [towns and villages]. As hereinafter provided. Of the expense of a grade crossing elimination to which any of the proceeds of such a debt are applied, [twenty-five] fifty per centum shall be borne by the [state, twenty-five] [illegible]

 So in original. [Evidently should be "conformity."]*

per centum by the city, town or village] and fifty per centum by the] railroad company. The remaining fifty per centum shall be borne by the state and the county in which the crossing is located, or by the state and the city in which it is located if the city contains two or more counties; except that if so provided by law, such remaining fifty per centum of the expense of elimination of a grade crossing in any other city shall be borne by the state, the county and such city. The proportions of the expense of a grade crossing elimination to be borne by the state and county, state and city, or state, county and city, under the provisions of this section, shall be determined by or pursuant to law. Laws shall be enacted to provide, so far as practicable, for repayment to the state of moneys advanced in aid of railroad companies, counties and cities[, towns and villages], at such times, in such manner and with interest at such rate, that the state shall be able to pay when due the portion of the state debt equal to the proceeds which shall have been so advanced, and interest thereon. The provisions of this article, not inconsistent with this section, relating to the issuance of bonds for a debt or debts of the state and the maturity and payment thereof, shall apply to a state debt or debts created pursuant to this section; except that the law authorizing the contracting of such debt or debts shall take effect without submission to the people pursuant to section four of this article. The aggregate amount of a state debt or debts which may be created pursuant to this section, as hereby amended, shall not exceed the difference between the amount of the debt or debts heretofore created or authorized by law, under the former provisions of this section, and the sum of three hundred million dollars; and the legislature, by law, may authorize or require a county to bear all or part of the portion of the expense of any such crossing elimination, heretofore begun or authorized, which was imposed by former provisions of this section on a city, town or village therein.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ELEVEN

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE EIGHT OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO LIMITATION OF INDEBTEDNESS OF CITIES.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That section ten of article eight of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

§ 10. No county, city, town or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in, or bonds of, any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid or support of its poor as may be authorized by law. No county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment rolls of said county or city on the last assessment for state or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as now may exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No county or city whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issuing of certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes for amounts actually contained or to be contained in the taxes for the year when such certificates or revenue bonds are issued and payable out of such taxes; nor to prevent the city of New York from issuing bonds to be redeemed out of the tax levy for the year next succeeding the year of their issue, provided that the amount of such bonds which may be issued in any one year in excess of the limitations herein contained shall not exceed one-tenth of one per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of said city subject to taxation. [Nor shall this section be construed to prevent the issue of bonds to provide for the supply of water; but the term of the bonds issued to provide for the supply of water, in excess of the limitations of indebtedness fixed herein, shall not exceed twenty years, and a sinking fund shall be created on the issuing of the said bonds for their redemption, by raising annually a sum which will produce an amount equal to the sum of the principal and interest of said bonds at their maturity.] All certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes, which are not retired within five years after their date of issue, [and bonds issued to provide for the supply of water,] and any debt hereafter incurred by any portion or part of a city, if there shall be any such debt, shall be included in ascertaining the power of the city to become otherwise indebted; except that debts heretofore or hereafter incurred by any city [of the first class after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and four, and debts incurred by any city of the second class after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and eight, and debts incurred by any city of the third class after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and ten,] to provide for the supply of water, shall not be so included; and except that debts not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of ten million dollars, heretofore or hereafter incurred by any city with a population of not less than two hundred and fifty thousand and not more than one million, and except that debts not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of five million dollars heretofore or hereafter incurred by any city with a population of not less than one hundred and seventy-five thousand and not more than two hundred and fifty thousand, for so much of the cost and expense of any public improvement as may be required by the ordinance or other local legislative law therein assessing the same to be raised by assessment upon local property or territory, shall not be so included; and except further that any debt hereafter incurred by the city of New York for a public improvement owned or to be owned by the city, which yields to the city current net revenue, after making any necessary allowance for repairs and maintenance for which the city is liable, in excess of the interest on said debt and of the annual installments necessary for its amortization may be excluded in ascertaining the power of said city to become otherwise indebted, provided that a sinking fund for its amortization shall have been established and maintained and that the indebtedness shall not be so excluded during any period of time when the revenue aforesaid shall not be sufficient to equal the said interest and amortization installments, and except further that any indebtedness heretofore incurred by the city of New York for any rapid transit or dock investment may be so excluded proportionately to the extent to which the current net revenue received by said city therefrom shall meet the interest and amortization installments thereof, provided that any increase in the debt incurring power of the city of New York which shall result from the exclusion of debts heretofore incurred shall be available only for the acquisition or construction of properties to be used for rapid transit or dock purposes. The legislature shall prescribe the method by which and the terms and conditions under which the amount of any debt incurred by the city of New York for a revenue producing improvement to be so excluded shall be determined, and no such debt shall be excluded except in accordance with the determination so prescribed. The legislature may in its discretion confer appropriate jurisdiction on the appellate division of the supreme court in the first judicial department for the purpose of determining the amount of any debt to be so excluded. No indebtedness of a city valid at the time of its inception shall thereafter become invalid by reason of the operation of any of the provisions of this section. Whenever the boundaries of any city are the same as those of a county, or when any city shall include within its boundaries more than one county, the power of any county wholly included within such city to become indebted shall cease, but the debt of the county, heretofore existing, shall not, for the purposes of this section, be reckoned as a part of the city debt. The amount hereafter to be raised by tax for county or city purposes, in any county containing a city of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, or in any such city of this state, in addition to providing for the principal and interest of the [existing] county or city debt, shall not in the aggregate exceed in any one year two per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal estate of such county or city, to be ascertained as prescribed in this section in respect to county or city debt.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article eight of the constitution be amended by adding a new section to follow section ten, to be section ten-a, to read as follows:

§ 10-a. Notwithstanding any of the limitations prescribed by the preceding section, debts may be incurred by the city of New York after January first, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, for the construction or equipment, or both, of new rapid transit railroads not exceeding the sum of three hundred million dollars, and such debts shall not be included in computing the debt limit of such city for the purpose of ascertaining the power of such city to become otherwise indebted.

§ 3. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWELVE

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE TWELVE OF THE CONSTITUTION, IN RELATION TO TERRITORY PROPOSED TO BE ANNEXED TO A CITY.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article twelve of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to follow section seven, to be section eight, to read as follows:

§ 8. Annexation of territory to cities. No territory shall be annexed to any city until the people of the territory proposed to be annexed shall have consented to such annexation by a majority vote on a referendum called for that purpose.

§ 2. Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one of article fourteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

Useful Organization

The organization known as P. E. O. was founded January 21, 1869, at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, by seven girls. At first it was simply a secret society of a local school, but spread until at the present time it is reported to have 39,000 members scattered through the different states. Its present object is the acquisition and disposition of an educational loan fund whereby young girls past high school, who have not the means to secure higher education, may make a loan for one or two years to carry them through the preparatory college classes.

REV. A. B. COLLIER RETURNED TO FREE METHODIST CHURCH

The members and friends of the Free Methodist Church are rejoicing in the fact that the Conference, which has just finished the annual session, has assigned the Rev. A. B Collier to the Kingston charge for another year. The past year has been one of prosperity in every department of the church life, and never in its history was there such unity and harmony as now prevails There have been additions to the membership and the congregations have steadily increased. The outlook for the coming year is exceedingly bright and encouraging New activities are being planned which will promote the spiritual and social. The Rev A B Collier's residence address will remain the same as heretofore, 18 Downs street. Pastor Collier will be present and have charge of the prayer and class meeting Thursday evening at 7 45 and will preach both morning and evening next Sunday, September 26.

Dartmouth Aided Indians

The first step of the government toward providing education for the Indians was made by the Continental congress in 1775, when a bill was passed appropriating $500 for the education of Indian youths in Dartmouth college.

Twaalfskill Club Opens New House

Formal Opening Celebrated Saturday Night With a Dance. First of Series of Entertainments—Weekly Putting Match for Women.

On Saturday evening the Twaalfskill Club celebrated the formal opening of the new club house with a dance.

All members were invited and the privilege of bringing a guest was extended for this occasion.

The large social room of the club had been attractively decorated with garden flowers, the long French windows were all open, giving access to the broad piazzas where those who did not dance might enjoy the moonlight and the music

Over one hundred club members and friends were present at this function, guests of the board of governors, who gave the dance

Arrangements were in the hands of the House Committee, S D Hilltebrant, chairman, Mrs Seth S Staples, vice-chairman, Mrs George Hutton, Mrs. Everett Fowler, Mrs. Richard Washburn, Mrs W D Brinnier, Miss Jane Van Etten G Wallace Codwise, William Warren, and Robert R Rodie.

The music was Zucca's orchestra, and Mrs Daley catered

This dance is to be the first of a series of entertainments inaugurating a policy of making the Twaalfskill club house a social center for the members.

Every Saturday afternoon there will be a putting match to which every woman member of the club is eligible Last Saturday Miss Jane Van Etten was the winner of the prize, and the preceding Saturday Mrs Harold King won the honor

Plans are now on foot for an afternoon bridge party and another club dance, as well as some private dances. Any member of the club may, for a nominal sum, have the use of the social room for an evening

The links of the Twaalfskill Club are accounted among the finest on the Hudson

John D Schoonmaker is president of the club and John Washburn vice-president The board of governors consists of these officers and Judge G D B Hasbrouck, Rodney B Osterhoudt, Judge John G Van Etten, Everett Fowler, Judge A T Clearwater, Edward Coykendall and Robert S Rodie.

Solitude

Solitude, the safeguard of mediocrity, is to genius the storm threat, the cold, obscure shelter where moult the wings which will bear it farther than suns and stars. He who would live alone and hear his own soul must be divided from traveling with the souls of other men, from living, inquiring, reading and writing in the daily thoroughfares of their opinions.—Emerson.

In the Tunney Training Camp

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 20 (AP) — Three score members of the Glenbrook Country Club are regarded with envy by their fellow citizens of Stroudsburg today. Country club members with paid up cards have privileges denied the public. They can catch fleeting glimpses of Gene Tunney as he goes about his work of completing his preparations for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey Thursday night. Those outside the exclusive fold of the golf club cannot even hear the thud of the blows delivered by the leather pushers.

The challenger made his farewell public appearance yesterday when he put on a great show for an enthusiastic gathering of 7,000 and today started under cover the final phase of his offensive against the heavyweight champion. The Glenbrook Club is several hundred yards from the main highway and during the next few days the road leading to the club will be private in fact as well as in theory. Only club members and newspaper men can get inside the club grounds. A long distance view of the restricted ring is offered from the first tee of the golf course but a narrow fairway with heavy rough on both sides so occupies the thoughts of persons with business on this tee that in the main the contender's wish for eleventh hour privacy is being satisfied.

The task of putting the finishing touches on the contender's training will go steadily forward to the very day of the supreme test. Boxing will be on the program today and although only light work is anticipated for Wednesday it will be only a half holiday.

The aspirant for pugilistic greatness gift had plenty of exercise yesterday. After a modified tenure of road work, he boxed four full rounds in the afternoon and then, just before darkness plotted out the course, accepted a challenge from Trainer Lou Fink for a few holes of golf.

The golf germ is making its presence felt in the camp. Fink and all the sparring partners have had a try at the sport but the microbe has also scored a decision over one man generally believed to be impervious to its deadly bite. Frank "Pants" Lawrence, the Adirondack guide who is general utility man in the outfit, finally succumbed and to the consternation of his training camp rivals, turned in a snappy 58 over the difficult nine hole course. Thoroughly familiar with the rod, gun and canoe paddle, the guide became acquainted with a golf club for the first time here.

Might Want It

The Jones family were on holiday, and it had rained every day for a week. They were all very gloomy as they sat in the front room of their boarding house.

Little Jimmy was looking through the window at the downpour when he exclaimed, suddenly, "Oh, look! There's a man carrying a lot of wood! What's he going to do?"

Mr. Jones looked up from his paper. "I suppose he's going to build an ark!" he said.

Jack Dempsey Is Fighting Mad

Action of Kearns In Throwing Dempsey Into the Hands of the Receiver Will Increase Fighting Instinct of Champion, Experts Believe.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 20 (AP).—Jack Dempsey, scowling angry world's heavyweight champion today is finished with all hard training. From now until Thursday night, only process servers can make him depart from his straight and narrow path of light labor.

The champion is tapering off from the apex of his training. He is down to 193½ pounds, striking distance from his best fighting weight, and only enough work to keep him fit to fight will be on the program during the next two days. Tomorrow he will work strictly in private with the gates to the dog track closed even to newspaper correspondents. This will be his last training, although he will loosen up a bit on Wednesday afternoon.

The annoyance caused by Jack Kearns, in which the champion's former manager almost succeeded in having Dempsey cast into the jail house, has succeeded in turning Dempsey from a carefree, happy-go-lucky youngster, mentally at least, into a fighting, destructive individual.

A majority of the experts here are of the opinion that the action of Kearns in throwing Dempsey into the hands of a receiver will only serve to increase his savage fighting instinct to the point which will bring him into the ring nearer the Dempsey of old than all the training the champion could have arranged at this critical period.

These observers are of the opinion that he will see Gene Tunney, Harry Wills, Kearns, Paddy Mullins, B. C. Clements and James A. Farley, all compiled in one Morocco-bound edition in front of him on next Thursday night.

Dempsey has been subpoenaed to appear in the court of chancery here tomorrow to answer to the suit filed by Kearns on Saturday. Gene Normile, manager of the champion, said today it was unlikely that Dempsey would show up in person. Instead a battery of legal talent will appear in his behalf.

Normile is of the opinion that the suit will either be dismissed or continued. In any event, the $100,000 bond posted by the champion will permit him to leave the state for his important engagement with Tunney, despite the writ of ne exeat granted to his ex-manager.

Dempsey yesterday confined himself to eighteen minutes of actual work, doing no boxing, although he was fighting mad. He pounded the inflated light bag for two rounds, shadowboxed for another two rounds, and finished up driving his fists into the big heavy swinging bag for two rounds. He was mumbling to himself and grunting every time he sank a punch into the big bag. The perspiration splashed off his forehead with every swing of his arms.

Dempsey impressed his observers with the fact that he never was off his toes for an instant. He circled around the inflated bag all the time he was punching it. While shadowboxing the champion was on his toes, continually going backwards and around in a circle, and always slashing out with a left hook at an imaginary foe.

Tommy Gibbons, one of the experts to watch the champion, said he appeared to be taking his work more seriously than Tunney. Gibbons had just returned from observing the challenger at his Stroudsburg camp.

American Flag of the Glenn Riddle farm, champion three-year-old of last year, has gone lame with a bowed tendon. He will be shipped later to the Riddle farm in Kentucky, Faraway farms, to enter stud service alongside of his illustrious sire, Man o' War. American Flag broke down after a fast trial when he negotiated a mile and an eighth in 1:53 in company with Crusader as the latter's final preparation for the Travers stakes.

Cubs' Owner Is "Sore" as He Lets Shulte Slip

Bill Veeck, president of the Cubs, has a large peeve, writes Manning Vaughan in the Milwaukee Journal. We don't blame him. If we were in his boots our peeve would be even larger than the one Nick Allen developed the day Jim Murray was returned to the A. A. guessing department. To make it short and snappy, Veeck had a chance to get Fritz Shulte, the playing masterpiece of the season, but he let the opportunity slip, and the youngster will probably be an American league attraction next season instead of a National league drawing card.

No doubt the Cub boss has his side of the story, but according to Otto Borchert, the Cubs lost all claim to Shulte some weeks back. The master of the famous trick cane also has documentary evidence to back up his statement. Be that as it may, Veeck is so sore because he lost out on the Belvidere beauty that he has recalled Clyde Beck, and Jack Lelivelt will have to stumble along with a makeshift infield until help arrives.

Maranville Playing on Third Club in 3 Years

"Rabbit" Maranville, veteran infielder, is playing on his third major-league club in as many years this season.

In 1924 Maranville was with the Pirates. Last year he cavorted for the Cubs, being manager of the club for a brief period. This campaign finds him holding down a job with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Maranville made his big-time debut with the Boston Braves in 1912. He was a member of the famous miracle team of 1914 that copped the pennant after being in eighth place in mid-July, then went on to whip the Athletics four straight in the world series.

Holds Team Hitless, but Loses Game on Errors

For the Coast league's prize exhibition of tough luck pitching the palm must be awarded to Frank Arellanes, former Sacramento slabster. Against the Vernon Tigers on October 10, 1910, Arellanes did not allow a hit but lost the game, 2 to 0, errors by his mates and his own wildness costing him a chance to enter into the slowly filling baseball hall of fame.

Last year George Boehler held Sacramento to no hits in nine innings, but Frank Shellenback, on the mound for the Scions, pitched shutout ball against the Oaks, and Boehler finally lost out in the tenth, 1 to 0.

St. Louis Still Leading by a Single Game

Yankees Now Leading Cleveland By Three and a Half Games.

(By the Associated Press.)

The National League pennant chase was jammed still tighter today with St. Louis holding a meagre single game margin over the Cincinnati Reds, but the New York Yankees had spread their lead over Cleveland to three and a half games in the American.

St. Louis lost a half a game of their county lead to Jack Hendricks's crew yesterday when the New York Giants tripped the Cardinals 6 to 5 before 40,000 fans. Cincinnati, idle for the day, burnished its armor in readiness for battle with the troublesome Boston Braves today. The Yankees rallied yesterday against the assault of the Cleveland Indians, who had thrown the Bugmen for four straight losses, and tossed back the Speaker host, 8 to 3.

The standing of the leaders follows.

As the season in the National League draws to a bewildering close after the greatest race in modern baseball history, the importance of the game between St. Louis and Cincinnati on the final day of the season grows steadily. If the Reds win the remainder of their seven games, including the tilt with the Hornsby outfit, nothing the Cardinals can do will save them the flag. But let the Reds drop but one game and St. Louis by taking all of their five, can just nose out the victory. Four out of five wins for the Cards, and six out of seven for the Reds would bring the season to an end with a deadlock and necessitate a play-off.

Hugh McQuillan took it upon himself to beat the mound city tossers yesterday and with Jackson and Tyson on base in the second frame, he belted out a long single that scored both runners after his battery mate, McMullen, had fanned in the pinch. The Cards could bunch safeties only in the fifth inning when five of the twelve hits counted three runs. Snappy clouting kept Jess Haines and Bill Sherdel hopping about the Cardinal mound.

Yankees Hit Hard.

The Yankees looked like their old selves yesterday for the first time in the last five games with Cleveland. The New York wrecking crew, suddenly jumping out of their batting slump, slammed Levsen, who beat them Thursday, all over the park. Lou Gehrig with three doubles and a homer, eased five runs across the plate and Babe Ruth got in two smashes, one of them his forty-third circuit clout of the season.

The faltering Pittsburgh Pirates turned on Brooklyn after losing three straight and took the final game of the season with the Flatbush crew, 7 to 4. Mueller, in addition to backing Ray Kremer's fancy pitching with brilliant fielding in the Pirate left garden, hit five scorching singles. Paul Waner had three hits, one of them a triple.

Two innings were needed for the St. Louis Browns to nose out Philadelphia, 5 to 4, with six hurlers called to the mound for the two teams before the afternoon was over. The St. Louis trio, Davis, Vangilder and Giard, allowed only eight hits to twelve for Willis, Quinn and Grove.

Seven pitchers marched to the mound in a free hitting contest in which Detroit took the measure of the Washington Senators 8 to 7. Chicago trimmed the Boston outfit, 6 to 3, with Tommy Thomas holding the Red Crose safe with five hits.

Colonials Take Dual Bill from D. & H. Generals

Art Smith and Bud Culloton Pitch Superbly For Colonials In Their Victory Over The D. & H. Generals Sunday.

Bud Culloton, who stepped out of the Colonial togs two years ago to travel big league paths, was back at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon twirling for his former mates.

After having been a Pittsburgh Pirate for two seasons the Kingstonian returned to the local mound Sunday and pitched a ball game which will not be forgotten by D. and H. Generals, Colonials, or the fans for some time to come. In the second match of a double bill with the D. and H. Generals, Bud outstripped Mickey Hogan in a thrilling ten inning match by a 2 to 1 score.

Bud had the up-state railroaders perplexed as he gave them but four hits to last the entire ten innings. The Colonials won but in the tenth frame with one man out.

Previous to Bud's performance, Art Smith opposed the up-staters and grabbed the series for the Colonials as he trimmed them by a 8 to 1 tally. The Phelpsmen needed but one match to win the series with the D. and H. Generals.

In the first game Art twirled a contest that was nothing short of a wonder. For seven long frames the Generals could not touch Smith. Finally in the eighth the Bostonian was forced to give three singles as the visitors gained their lone run. Bill Dollard was Art's opponent on the slab but he did not share the easy task of Smith. Dollard was pounded all ways as the Phelpsmen walloped out thirteen hits and their eight runs.

Mickey Hogan was Bud's rival in the second game and he earned his share of the glory also. Mickey was slightly handicapped for he limped his way through the ten innings after having dropped a heavy iron on his foot. But Mickey's arm work was not the least bit impaired by this accident. Two hits were all the Colonials gathered off the railroaders pitching during the first nine innings. He also fanned twelve of the Kingston players.

When the tenth frame rolled around the Colonials threatened Mickey with trouble. Karis, who had fanned on three previous trips, then went to bat and hit through third. He went to third as Deegan followed with a single. O'Brien fanned and Jack Robins went to bat. Robins laid down a bunt and Karis crossed the plate with the important run.

Fred Miller started the action for the Generals in the second match. In the second inning, Fred hit a huge homer off Bud's fast one and the Generals were in the lead.

Bud Culloton soon put the teams on even terms again. In the third frame, Bud took up his weapon and smacked the ball over the right field fence and the clubs were tied.

Harry Schermerhorn was unable to play having injured his ankle in fielding practice a few days ago. Grady played first for the manager and Kelly Herbst did the catching. Rossback played in the outfield and in the second game Dollard played first base.

Johnny Peters had four out of four in the opening game.

This ends the series with the Railroaders, Colonials five games and Generals two games.

Played 51, won 37, lost 13, tied 1. Pct., .740.

K. of C. Club Win At Port Jervis

The local Knights of Columbus baseball team broke the Port Jervis winning streak of seven straight games by defeating them Sunday by the score of 7 to 1.

Jim Volker pitching for the Kingston team again pitched good ball holding Port Jervis to seven hits, while March opposing twirler was nicked for ten. It was the first time this season that March has lost a game.

Port Jervis scored in the first, when Stanfield singled and scored on Bush's double. The Cozy team evened the count in the fifth on singles by Carr, Davitt and Colvin.

In the seventh the Knights broke the tie when McGrane reached second on a wild throw to first. Hinkley sacrificed. Carr fanned and when Collins missed Davitt's grounder, McGrane scored. In the eighth, Sickler doubled, Didzig sacrificed and Feeney singled, giving the Knights their third run.

For the local team, Sickler, Davitt Feeney and Carr, each got two hits. The score

Out-Granges Grange

"How's this for a chunk of ice?" asks Carl Linder, Harvard varsity tackle, who hoists it to his broad shoulders with all the finesse of Red Grange himself. This is what Carl calls training for football. He is working for a Boston ice company in preparation for the arduous grid season this fall.

Oil Cork of Glue Bottle

After a bottle of glue has been opened rub a little fat or oil around a sound cork before inserting it in the bottle and the cork will pull out quite easily. Glass stoppers should be treated in the same manner.

Principal Fights For Heavyweight Title Since 1892

World's Championship Held Today by Jack Dempsey Dates Back to Days of John L. Sullivan—Principal Title Bouts.

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 (AP)—Heavyweight boxing history has been traced back more than a century, to 1719, when the fistic game first flourished in England, but the world's championship held today by Jack Dempsey dates back only about three decades, to 1890, when John L. Sullivan became generally recognized as the king of them all.

Seven men have held the heavyweight accepted since the reign of the Boston "Strong Boy." All but one have been American ringmen. Bob Fitzsimmons, the freckled Cornishman, was the only foreign pugilist to wear the crown.

Dempsey shares with Jack Johnson, the noted Negro fighter and Jim Jeffries the distinction of holding the championship the longest, seven years. Jeffries retired undefeated but was knocked out by Johnson when he attempted a come-back as a "white hope" after the Negro had lifted the championship from Tommy Burns.

"Gentleman Jim" Corbett held the title for five years. Jess Willard, four years; Burns, three years, after Jeffries's retirement, and Fitzsimmons, two years.

In the last championship fight with bare knuckles, Sullivan knocked out Jake Kilrain at Richburg, Miss., July 8, 1889, in seventy-five rounds. Sullivan held sway with the gloves until 1892 when he was knocked out by Corbett in 21 rounds.

The list of principal fights for the title since 1892.

x-1892—James J. Corbett knocked out John L. Sullivan in twenty-one rounds with big gloves at New Orleans, September 7.

Boxing Fast Overtaking Bull Fighting in Spain

Boxing, after a few years, seems about to overtake bull fighting in the favor of Catalonians.

The recent fights for the European heavyweight championship at the Stadium, Queen of the Spanish, defeated Ernesto Spalla of Italy drew a gate of 250,000 pesetas, more than double the highest amount ever taken in at a bull fight in the same arena.

Although ringside seats for the two recent fights, four times the amount usually charged for bull fights, the attendance reached more than 21,000. The arena, which ordinarily accommodates 25,000, had never been filled to capacity for a bull fight.

Awaiting Word From 8 Vessels

New York, Sept. 20 (AP).—Steamship companies today awaited word from at least eight vessels, unheard from since the tropical hurricane of last week. It is not known that all of the ships were within the storm area, and it is assumed by shipping men that vessels which were unaffected would not consider it necessary to notify their offices.

The Clyde line, operating between New York and Miami, today denied that the steamship Cherokee, with a full compliment of passengers was within the storm area. The Cherokee left New York Saturday, and is not due in Miami until noon tomorrow.

Judge the Whole by One

A corporation may spread itself over the whole world and may employ one hundred thousand men, but the average person will usually form his judgment of it through his contact with one individual. If this person is rude or inefficient, it will take a lot of kindness and efficiency to overcome the bad impression. Every member of an organization who in any capacity comes in contact with the public is a salesman and the impression he makes is an advertisement, good or bad.—Standard Data Digest.

Good in Everything

"Deafness is a blessing in some respects," said a man who recently lost his hearing. "You are not bothered by the rumble and roar of the city while you're working at your desk. Petty, distracting noises, such as those caused by the dropping of an inkwell or the persistent ringing of a telephone, no longer annoy you. The cut-out of automobiles, the milkman's horse, the shouting of the newsboy are no longer of concern.

Not Up to Rastus

Down at Camp Taylor in 1917 a negro outfit was lined up before the clerk for preliminary paper work.

"Name and address," demanded the clerk of one husky recruit."

"Huh?"

"What is your name and address?"

"Yo' ought to know," said Rastus. "Yo' sent fo' me!"—Capper's Weekly.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—Despite flurries of strength in some of the investment rails and high grade industrials the stock market lost ground today on selling inspired by the gigantic property losses in the Florida storm, which may necessitate the heavy sale of securities by insurance companies affected, and by uneasiness over the monetary outlook as a result of the sharp deficit shown in last Saturday's clearing house statement.

Another temporary outburst of strength took place in the Van Sweringen issues, presumably in further reflection of reports that the Cleveland financiers were working on a further modification of the consolidation plans in an endeavor to satisfy the minority stockholders of the various roads. Chesapeake and Ohio touched a new record high at 173⅝. "Nickel Plate" common at 193 and Pere Marquette at 111.

In the industrial group new peak prices for the year, or longer, were attained by General Motors (new stock) at 158½, Dupont at 317 and Bethlehem Steel at 51¼. Publication of a relatively poor quarterly earning statement by Hudson Motor Car Company sent that stock down about four points shortly after midday. Weakness also cropped out in American Smelting, which quickly sold now nearly four points. Heavy selling of these two issues brought about a wave of liquidation in the general list scores of issues in the food merchandising, equipment, public utility and steel groups being carried down one to three points below last week's closing quotations.

Thistle Raising Profitable

The teasel, a cactus-like thistle, provides the only entirely satisfactory means of carding wool, removing the burr and bringing up the nap. Consequently in some parts of the world, especially in England, in northern New York and in Oregon, raising thistles for the wool manufacturing industry is a regular business. Teasels were introduced into America by William [illegible], an Englishman, in [illegible].

Captain Robert Fulton Tompkins, formerly of this city, died Sunday at his home, No. 3134 Broadway, New York city, after a long illness. Captain Tompkins commanded old Company M for several years prior to the Spanish American War and was in command when the company left Kingston as part of the Tenth Regiment, and during all its subsequent movements and until it was mustered out of service. He was a civil engineer by profession and for a number of years was in charge of the laying out and excavation of quarries of the Newark Lime & Cement Company, many of the quarries extending from the hills in the vicinity of East Union street underneath the Hudson river. The Tompkins family were the principal owners of the Newark Lime & Cement Company, but the quarries became worked out soon after the close of the war, and after being mustered out of service Captain Tompkins went to New York city. For a time he was chief engineer of a large coal producing company in Nova Scotia, and subsequently was in charge of engineering work in South and Central America. Captain Tompkins was of a jovial disposition and made innumerable friends. He was a member of the Ulster County Society in the City of New York. He is survived by his wife, Phebe Annesley Tompkins. The funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church, 521 West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, New York city, on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, and the remains will be brought to Kingston for interment.

Meeting of DeMolay Tonight.

There will be an important meeting this evening of DeMolay at 7:30 at the lodge rooms, Wall street.

Few Salmon Survive Season of Spawning

It is believed that all Pacific salmon die after they get through spawning. As the spawning season approaches these fish work their way as far as possible up streams. It is a well-known fact that some species of salmon work their way up into brooks so shallow that their backs stick out before they deposit their eggs. When they have spawned they turn over and die, leaving windrows of rotting carcasses on the shore. During this season the salmon get very thin, their eyes become sunken, their appetites grow less and less, their throats begin to narrow and their stomachs shrink until they become entirely incapacitated for receiving food and they then die. This, however, holds true only of the Pacific salmon. All other salmon, it seems, do not die after spawning, but large numbers of them, especially the males, do not survive the spawning season.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Eskimo Snow Huts

Although there are no windows in the snow-hut homes of the Eskimos, the ventilation is not as bad as might be expected, for not only is the snow itself full of air, but, being porous, it permits fresh air to penetrate through it, so that, when one holds his hand near the wall, he can tell against which side the wind is blowing. This circulation of air, without seriously diminishing the temperature within, serves the purpose of preventing the hut from melting away. The Eskimos live in warmth in these snow huts even if the homes are not particularly convenient. One of the unhandy features is the mode of entrance, which is through a long, low tunnel at one side. It is through this tunnel also that the smoke from the fire in the center of the hut finds egress.—London Tit-Bits.

The reason most men would not pay a dime to see an earthquake is because they have already seen one or its equivalent.

Society Notes

Nelting-Storm.

George L. Nelting of No. 29 Grove street and Miss Helen S. Storm of No. 62 Gill street were married at Newburgh on September 18 by the Rev. C. L. Hubbord.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. William Richard Anderson announce the engagement of their daughter, Francella Caroline to Arthur Lewis Smith of Richmond Hill, Long Island, the wedding to take place on Saturday, October 9, at the Congregational Church.

Oliver-Logan.

John Oliver and Miss Clara Logan, both of Saugerties, were married in the Lutheran parsonage at West Camp by the Rev. S. M. Mountz on Tuesday afternoon, September 14. The attendants were J. K. Trnka of Saugerties and Mrs. R. A. Snyder of New York city. After the ceremony the couple left for an extended wedding trip.

Oxholm-Hall.

Invitations have been received in this city from the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Mercer Hall to the marriage of their daughter, Mary McAllister, to Theodore Oxholm on Thursday, October 7, at 4 o'clock at the Church of the Ascension, West Park. The ceremony will be followed by a reception to be given at half after four o'clock at Rosemount, Esopus.

Maunovich-Kallaway.

Miss Selena H. Kallaway and Michael C. Maunovich, both of Whiteport, were united in marriage Sunday morning, September 19, at 8 o'clock at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Grenville E. Kerr, 113 Wall street. They were attended by the bride's brother, Samuel Kallaway, of Stamford, Conn. Their wedding trip will be a trip through the northern counties of New York state. The Rev. Grenville E. Kerr performed the ceremony.

A Variety Shower.

A variety shower was tendered Miss Antoinette Grahs at her home, 119 Hunter street, Thursday evening in honor of her approaching marriage to John Radenberg. Those present were the Misses Antoinette Grahs, Jessie Houghtaling, Mary Moran, Sarah McGrath, Margaret McCormick, Beatrice Blankshan, Madalin Nobel, Marie Houghtaling, Jane Buckley, Anna Stenglein, Elizabeth Nagy, Mary Stenglein, Gerald Golnek, Florence Newburgh, Marie Grahs, Mrs. H. Radenberg, Mrs. S. Keyes, Mrs. G. Schupp, Mrs. M. Fay, Mrs. E. Newburgh, Mrs. W. Newburgh, Mrs. W. Golnek. Supper was served at a late hour. Miss Grahs was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Rothery-Weick.

Miss Kathryn Weick, daughter of Mrs. Rose McNeinery of 6 Cottage Row, and Edward Rothery, son of Mrs. Lena Rothery of Smith avenue, were united in marriage at St. Mary's Church, Sunday, September 19, at 2:45 p. m. Organ selections were rendered by the organist, Professor William H. Reiser. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, James Cooney. She wore a gown of white georgette crepe. Her veil, worn cap fashion, was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and swansonia. Miss Sophie Stuckhouse was maid of honor and wore a gown of honey dew crepe de chine with picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. William Rothery, brother of the groom, was best man. Following the ceremony there was a supper served at the Mulford House in Saugerties. Mr. and Mrs. Rothery left for New York and Philadelphia. They will reside at 6 Cottage Row on their return. The well wishes of a host of friends are extended to the young couple.

Smith-Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Smith and daughter, Miss Helen Smith, of 124 West Pierpont street have returned from attending the wedding of their son and brother, Samuel Burrows Smith, to Miss Alice Louise Hall, which occurred on Saturday, September 18, at six o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harland Mayo Hall, at 286 Dahill Road, Brooklyn, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Gardiner, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Flatbush. The bride was lovely in a gown of white georgette, trimmed with crystal beads and Princess lace, wearing a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 20 (AP).—Peaches of fancy quality and in good condition were in active demand, but ordinary to poor again received scant attention. Supplies were only moderate. Elbertas in bushel baskets from the Hudson valley district wholesaled within the price range of $1.50 @ $2.50. New Jersey offerings realized as high as $2.25 and as low as $.50.

The supply of western New York carrots were far in excess of trade requirements resulting in an extremely dull and weak market. A few transactions were made around $1.25 for hundred pound bags and $.65 to $.75 for bushel baskets.

Trading for good quality big Boston lettuce was considerably more active and values therefore were higher in a stronger market. Oswego county and western New York crates of about two dozen heads jobbed out principally from $1 to $1.50. Romaine sold from $1 to $1.75.

The market for state celery was again dull inasmuch as the demand was not sufficient to absorb the supply. Arrivals however, were only moderate, offering in the rough jobbed out at $1.50 to $2.25 per two-thirds crate for the best and from 75c to $1.25 for the inferior.

Despite the more plentiful supply of cucumbers from upstate sections the market was a trifle firmer because of the better demand. The finest stock commanded $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel basket whereas ordinary to poor realized from 50c to $1. Dills ranged from $1.50 to $2.50, depending upon the condition, and pickles sold from $2.50 to $5, according to size.

Fancy large Bartlett and Clapp's favorite pears from western New York and the Hudson Valley sold well and in consequence values were sustained without difficulty in a steady market. Supplies were fairly liberal. The very best Bartletts changed hands at $2.25 to $2.50 per bushel while $2.25 was about the top figure obtained for Clapp's favorite. Seckles ranged from $2.25 to $3.50, depending on quality and size.

Odds and Ends

The Woman's Auxiliary of Holy Cross Church will meet on Thursday, September 23, at 2:30 o'clock in the Parish House. They will send away that afternoon the summer work, so members are asked to bring any garment they have been making.

JOHN BURKE DROWNED IN RIVER FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

John Burke, 53 years old, an employe of the Central Hudson Steamboat Company, was drowned in the Hudson river at Newburgh Friday afternoon when he fell from the dock. He lived at 2 Smith street, Newburgh, with Joseph Hanna, who had known him for a number of years and said Burke was a former resident of Kingston. As far as known Burke had no relatives, an only brother having died about a year ago.

$100,000 WORTH OF BEER WILL BE DESTROYED.

Under the provisions of an amended decree signed by Judge Thomas D. Thatcher in federal court the Deerpark Brewery Company, of Port Jervis, must destroy all the beer on the premises. It is valued at $100,000.

Baptist Rummage Sale.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church are holding a rummage sale all this week at No. 587 Broadway, near Cedar street.

bride roses. The maid of honor was Miss Alice Hemmings of Brooklyn who wore a charming gown of orchid colored satin and silver tissue. She carried Ophelia roses. Mr. Smith had as his best man Lloyd LeFevre of Rosendale. The home was profusely and artistically decorated with autumn foliage and gladioli, the ceremony being performed in front of a mass of greenery, palms and flowers. The wedding music and Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin were played by Miss Helen Smith, sister of the groom. A reception followed the ceremony after which a fine collation was served. During the evening Mr. and Smith left on their honeymoon and on their return they will make their home in a newly furnished apartment in Brooklyn. The groom, who was a graduate of Kingston High School, is connected with the patent department of The Radio Corporation of America in New York city.

Why Policemen Age

A riot call to New Orleans police headquarters brought 16 policemen, detectives and prosecuting attorneys, to a house where it was said robbers were dividing up the receipts. But it was found that a $10 bill, missing from the marked money and supposed to have been stolen, had been burned in the fire in the stove.

At Another's Expense

I put a dollar watch on a fellow. The cheapest game I ever played and found it the right size all the way to the end that I could use it for a chain. The loser

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Stroudsburg, Pa.—Now that Big Bill and Bobby have been toppled, a fellow here with a great fighting name is going to try to uncrown another king. Gene Tunney was christened "James J." and the "J. J.'s" have been successful scrappers. For instance: J. J. Corbett, J. J. Jeffries, J. J. McGraw, J. J. Evers, J. J. Persh-ing.

Chicago—Another onion. Mrs. Estelle Taylor Dempsey is unlike the spartan mother who told her fighting son to bring back his shield or come upon it. The pre-battle message from the Mrs. to Jack was "Win or lose, hurry home," it notables on a train en route from moviedom to Philly have it straight.

New York—Still another. There's a new champion of the mothers who have swum around Manhattan Island. Mrs. Charlotte C. Schoemmel, 28, a nurse and a lifeguard, did the 44 miles in 14 hours, 21 minutes, cutting the time of Mrs. Millie Gade Corson an hour and a half. Mrs. Schoemmel's two children were in bed before she finished the swim.

New York—If the girls do win back the swimming crown, at least men can have the satisfaction of knowing they are the champions in curiosity. Tests made by Columbia University show that men spend more time looking into store windows than women do.

New Brunswick, N. J.—The greatest curiosity apparent: Motorists from many states are visiting the crab-apple tree in De Russey's Lane. Small boys get 50 cents for acting as guides. Some of the tourists would like raspberry vinegar and mixed pickles that once were served to callers at Mrs. Hall's.

New York—A new giant electric locomotive hauls a train of 108 freight cars, nearly a mile long, at the rate of 32 miles an hour.

Genoa—Mussolini hopes to celebrate the anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome with the launching of the steamship Augustus, the largest in the world.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Chicago will be the world's greatest city in seven years, it is predicted by S. W. Dryer, a German, who has been touring the country and making films for educating the youth at home.

United States Gem Mines

Turquoise is found in the desert regions of San Bernardino county, California, where a company has turquoise mines, as it has also others sixty miles east of there, in southern Nevada. At this last place old stone hammers were found, showing the ancients had once worked those gem mines, which were good producers. One of these turquoises was a pale blue, and when cut into a perfect oval weighed 203 carats.—Los Angeles Times.

Wonderful Accuracy

The bureau of standards says that in high-grade tool and gauge shops measurements are regularly made to ten-thousandths and hundred-thousandths of an inch. At the bureau of standards precision gauge blocks are tested to an accuracy of from one to five-millionths of an inch by light interference methods. The "ultramicrometer" is capable of detecting differences of one-billionth of an inch.

Named by Indians

Both Paraguay and Uruguay are Guarani Indian names. Uruguay means river of waters, referring to the numerous tributaries; possibly from ury-guay, meaning a bird's (uru) tail (guay)—resembling a waterfall, which spreads like a bird's tail. Paraguay means the golden water, possibly from the water fowl called paragua.

Ancient Lore of Pearls

Pearls have been found in the burial places of ancient man. They assumed a progressively greater importance as civilization advanced to its modern height. There is scarcely a people, past or present, which did or does not count pearls among the most valued of its possessions.—Nature Magazine.

Qualified Praise

"So that college professor spoke favorably of our son?" said the fond mother. "Sort of favorably," answered the father. "He said there was no danger of his growing up to be one of those pedants who never know anything except what they get in books."—Washington Star.

Origin of Derisive Term

Ironic is a word introduced by the disciples of Thomas Aquinas in ridicule of the disciples of John Duns Scotus who did not think that of supreme intellect was held by the more ancient or greater and at the time of the reformation to be a mark of intellectual strength.

Ancient Welsh Custom

In ancient days a person wishing to convey a dwelling to one right on condition land in Wales was held to be its owner and nobody could dispute his tenure according to the Jewish Infidel dec. These absolute were generally given, of part or part of land known as Welsh or "Tal Tir under their name."

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Sept. 20 (AP)—More than 151,000 employes were on the payroll of General Motors Corporation with annual wages of $254,394,000 when the consolidation of Fisher Body, as a manufacturing division of General Motors, became effective on June 30. This total does not include employes of certain affiliated companies or employes of dealers selling General Motor cars. Its 19 major manufacturing operations have plants in 48 cities, 12 of which are over seas. The corporation buys materials and supplies from six thousand concerns and does business with 12,000 banks. It has 45,800 stockholders.

International Agricultural Corporation had a net profit of $1,406,097 for the year ended June 30, equal to $14.06 a share on the prior preference stock, on which accumulated dividends amount to 14 per cent. Allowing for the year's seven per cent preferred dividends, $1.57 a share was earned on the common stock, compared with net profit of $1,100,838 the year before, or $1.05 a share on the common.

Steel ingot production in the Youngstown valley is at ninety per cent of capacity. Sheet and tin mill output also is at about the same rate. About 37 of the 53 independent and 30 U. S. Steel furnaces district will manufacture steel this week.

Freight traffic on Canadian roads for the week ended September 11 were 69,175 carloads against 66,213 the week before and 62,602 a year ago. Receipts from connections were 34,865 carloads against 28,523 the previous week.

Many Will Attend Golden Jubilee

Replies are being received daily in answer to invitations sent out for the golden jubilee celebration of Union Hose Company. The committee so far has received notice from three of the surviving charter members that they intend to be present. Many other old-time members also have favorably responded and a large attendance is looked for. September 25 has been set as the date for replies to be returned and it is expected to know by that time the approximate number to attend. The exercises will consist of banquet and reception at St. Marys' Hall on Wednesday evening, October 6, and open house on Thursday, October 7, at the engine house.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Reception during daylight hours on Sunday was excellent, but in the evening it was very weak, even WJZ and WGY demanding full power in order to be heard well. WDBZ again covered itself and Dr. Seeley with glory Sunday morning and it is a good guess that anyone who listened to the sermon for five minutes hung on until the end.

What stunts was WJZ doing nearly all Sunday afternoon? There was no signal, but a tremendous carrier wave on.

Chicago stations were very weak, but could be heard Sunday night.

Saturday night reception was much better and among the stations heard was WSMB, New Orleans, giving an account of hurricane conditions. KMOX, St. Louis, was also clear. All of the Chicago stations were clear and for a short time PWX was heard.

WGY was doing stunts with different microphones. No. 3 was twice as loud as No. 2.

Congregationalists at Saugerties.

Saugerties, Sept. 20.—The Hudson River District of the Association of Congregational Churches will meet in the Saugerties Church on October 20 and 21, and as this association was first organized in this village over a half century ago its existence will be observed at the fall meeting here. The delegates will be the guests of the members of the Saugerties Church and preparations have been going on for some time to give all who attend a royal welcome.

Register Tonight For Night School

Registration for those who contemplate attending the night school conducted at the high school will be held this evening, Tuesday and Wednesday at the high school from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Courses will be offered in elementary subjects and if there are a sufficient number of applicants registered—not less than twelve in each subject—commercial, homemaking and mechanical drawing courses will be offered.

There will also be a course in citizenship for foreign born people who are seeking to become citizens and also instruction for first voters who are required to take a literary test or furnish credentials from the schools they have attended before casting their first vote.

Class work will begin on Monday evening, September 27, at the high school, and classes will be held thereafter every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening at the high school.

Part time students should not appear at the high school for registration on the above mentioned nights.
